POLICE KNOW CAR WHICH STRUCK HENRY FORD'S

Driver's Arrest Is Imminent Is Police Report

Officers Believe Attempt Made Deliberately To Injure Ford

AUTO MAKER IS STILL IN HOSPITAL

Hospital Statement Indicates Condition May Be More Serious Than Thought

(International News Service)

DETROIT, March 31.—Clues to the identity of the hit-and-run motorists who injured Henry Ford in a suspected plot to assassinate the automobile king were in the hands of Chief of Police Fred Faustman of Dearborn today.

It was reported that the police possess the automobile license number of the Studebaker car which forced Ford's small coupe into the ditch just outside Dearborn Sunday night. Chief Faustman, according to the Dearborn police headquarters, is investigating information which may lead to the arrest of the occupants of the Studebaker car.

Although unofficial reports today indicated, Ford's condition is giving his physicians grave concern due to the fact he is suffering from hemorrhages and may be internally injured, hospital attendants announced he slept easily through the night.

"His general condition is excellent, and he continues to improve steadily," said the hospital report early today.

The automobile king's condition is aggravated because of his advanced age and the danger of his contracting pneumonia. Ford will be 64 on July 30.

An army of Ford's secret service, private detectives and police of a half dozen Michigan cities are searching for two men and a Studebaker touring car. Occupants of the Studebaker are said to have deliberately attempted to drive Ford into the River Rouge but failing in that, rammed his tiny Ford coupe, in which the automobile king rode alone, off a boulevard near his estate and sped away as the car tumbled down an embankment.

Bulletin Issued

The only official bulletin issued at the Henry Ford hospital indicated the seriousness of the automobile magnate's injuries. In it, Dr. R. D. McClure, chief Ford surgeon, revealed that America's first billionaire was spitting and passing blood, both indicating internal injuries

Legion Post Has Rear-Admiral In Members' List

(International News Service)

MIFFLINTOWN, Pa., March 31. The adjutant of Juniata post No. 293 of the American Legion, located here, is in receipt of a check for 1927 dues from the post's most distinguished member, Admiral S. S. Robinson, U. S. N. Few posts number among their membership a rear admiral of the navy in active service. The fact is there are only four officers now holding that rank.

Admiral Robinson is a native of Milford, Juniata county, and was recently commander of the Pacific fleet. He is now stationed at Bremerton, Washington, where he is in command of the Puget Sound navy yard, one of the most important naval bases along the Pacific coast.

KENTUCKY "GHOST GIRL" WEDS

A friendship begun eight years ago when they lived in La-Follette, Tenn., has resulted in the marriage of Miss Mary Vickery, 16-year-old "ghost girl" of Harlan, Ky., who recently "returned from the grave" to free Conley Dabney, 33, miner of Coal Creek, Tenn., who had been given a life term in the penitentiary for her "murder," and C. E. Demsey, painter and navy veteran. This photo was taken as they were pronounced man and wife by the Rev. E. C. Davis, minister and magistrate who is holding the marriage license.

Young Woman Is Reported Missing

Police Asked To Assist In Search For Young Woman Strangely Missing

NOT HEARD FROM FOR SEVERAL WEEKS

After several weeks during which time a search has been conducted without success, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph T. Elliott of 627 Arlington avenue, have asked the assistance of the police in finding their daughter Miss Florence Elliott, aged 21, missing from the city since the evening of March 5.

Mother Is Worried

Mrs. Elliott, mother of the missing girl, in a statement to The News today, said that they feared that the missing girl had met with harm and that they were most anxious to obtain clues as to her possible whereabouts.

According to Mrs. Elliott, the missing girl had been a pupil nurse in the training school of the New Castle hospital since last August and had been intensely interested in her work and had frequently expressed the hope that she could go through the three year course without missing a day.

She had maintained this interest until a few days before the evening of her disappearance, when, according to Mrs. Elliott, a story had been circulated in the city that appeared to reflect on her. It had become known to a sister, also in the hospital on Thursday, March 3, and Mrs. Elliott on the following night had gone to the hospital and asked her daughter about it.

The daughter stated that it was untrue and that she could not understand how it came that such a thing would be said about her. She said at the time that she could not

Asks Big Damages For Fire In Home

Woman Charges Photographer's Flashlight Gun Set Fire To Home

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Pa., March 31.—A suit for $125,000 damages against Vincent Evans, Washington photographer, was on file here today at the instance of Mrs. Frances Logay, for her small daughter, Louise, and herself.

Mrs. Logay alleges that the photographer discharged a flashlight gun in her home to which he had been called to photograph the body of a relative, and that the flash set fire to her home. The daughter was badly burned and the home was damaged, the plaintiff alleges.

Mrs. Logay asks $100,000 for her daughter and $25,000 for herself.

FATHER OF SEVEN CHILDREN DIES IN AUTO CRASH

Two Others Injured When Car Crashes Into Bridge Abutment

(International News Service)

MAHANOY CITY, Pa., March 31.—One man was instantly killed and two others seriously injured here early today when their automobile crashed into the abutment of Cole's subway on the outskirts of the city.

James Cisco, 45, the father of seven children, of Plainfield, N. J., was killed. James Sullivan and George Sullivan, 26-year-old twin brothers of Shamokin were seriously injured.

Cisco, who was driving the car, was a representative of the Airhose company of Plainfield. He and the Sullivan brothers were returning to Mahanoy City from a business trip in Schuylkill county, where Cisco had been introducing Jamse Sullivan as a salesman in the territory, when the accident occurred.

The tragedy was discovered by James Harrington, a mine foreman. The Sullivan brothers, in an unconscious condition with bruises and lacerations about the head, were taken to the homes of friends here.

Admit Aiding Gray To Destroy His Stained Vest

(International News Service)

SYRACUSE, N. Y., March 31.—Admission by Haddon Gray and Harry Platt that they connived with Henry Judd Gray to destroy the blood-stained vest and other clothing brought back after the murder in Queens Village, of Albert Snyder, art editor of Motor Boating, featured the Syracuse investigation of the case this afternoon.

This startling evidence was brought out after Gray and Platt had been grilled at police headquarters here by New York and local detectives. Another "mystery witness" was arrested today. His name was not learned.

Much Untaxable Land In Adams Co.

(International News Service)

GETTYSBURG, Pa., Mar. 31.—Although Adams county is one of the smallest counties in the state of Pennsylvania there is within its borders land to the value of $1,293,818 that is non-taxable, this including the battlefield, the Lutheran College, seminary and academy, together with the churches scattered throughout the county. This fact was made known when Raymond E. Deardorff, clerk of the county commissioners, completed his report for the secretary of internal affairs of the state.

Thirty-Three Mine Cars In Wild Dash Down Incline, Cause Blast

By CARL L. TURNER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

EHRNFELD, Pa., March 31.—State and federal mine inspectors, with the co-operation of officials of the Pennsylvania Coal and Coke Company, today started an investigation of the explosion which rocked the company's No. 3 mine. They termed it one of the strangest mine disasters on record.

While the lives of nearly 300 miners were imperilled by an explosion a mile and a quarter from the mine mouth, only four men were killed and four injured. The others were led in an orderly manner to safety through airshafts and other entries.

The dead: Dan McConaghey, 40, single; William Connelly, 35, single; John Fesko, 35, single, and John Shedlock, 37, married, five children.

Foreman Injured

W. J. Williams, assistant mine foreman, was perhaps the most seriously injured. He was overcome by after-damp as he made his way through the main entrance and was removed to his home. Physicians say he will recover.

In an exclusive statement to the International News Service W. S. Blakeslee, superintendent of the mine, today described the unusual explosion and told how the men were able to reach the surface after being trapped in the mine for but a few hours.

"Two hundred and ninety-one men were in the mine when the explosion occurred. I was in the main office, 30 yards from the mine heading, and the force of the blast was so great as to shatter every window in the place.

"Preliminary investigation showed that the explosion was due to a hitch giving way and permitting 33 mine cars loaded with coal to plunge down a 2,000-foot incline a mile and a quarter back from the mine mouth.

"As the cars neared the bottom of the incline they were traveling at such high speed they jumped the tracks, tearing insulation from electric wires and causing a short circuit which ignited an accumulation of coal dust.

"The men who were killed were working at the foot of the incline plane. Three of the dead were motormen of mine locomotives and the fourth was a car dispatcher.

DISCUSS POLICY AT MEETING IN PEKING

President Coolidge Reported As Reluctant To Join With Other Powers

By GEORGE R. HOLMES,
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Mar. 31. — The question of whether the American government will abandon its independent position in China and join with Great Britain and Japan in making a strong protest to the Chinese Nationalists over the Nanking outrage—with a threat of punitive measures in the background—was put squarely up to the state department today.

The British government has been rather urgent in its invitation to the United States to make a common cause of the Nanking incident, and Minister MacMurray at Pekin has given it his endorsement, it was learned today.

Meeting In Pekin

There was a meeting between the American, British and Japanese ministers in Pekin yesterday at which the policy was thoroughly discussed. MacMurray cabled a long report on it to the state department, and is said to have recommended joint action.

Both President Coolidge and Secretary of State Kellogg are understood, however, to be reluctant to ride with the British as far as the British evidently want to go. While the American government has al-

Detective Hurt, Struck By Auto At Canonsburg

(International News Service)

CANONSBURG, Pa., March 31.—Frank Simpson, 38, of Canonsburg, a private detective, was in the hospital here today in a serious condition as the result of injuries suffered when he was struck by a speeding automobile when he attempted to halt it to search it last night.

The car was found abandoned a short distance from the place Simpson was struck, and Constable Jack McBride of Washington, Pa., later found a quantity of liquor in it, he said. The car bore a West Virginia license.

Shortly before, Simpson and McBride found another abandoned car, also containing liquor, they said, and nearby they arrested John Arnold, 22, of Youngstown, O.

Arnold was lodged in jail in lieu of $5,000 bond on charges of transporting contraband liquor. His trial was set for April 7.

Salary Raiser Bill Recalled

FISHER APPROVES SEVEN MEASURES

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Mar. 31.—Included in a list of six joint resolutions recalling bills which Governor John S. Fisher today approved was the Senator James Boyd, (Montgomery) salary raiser for county commissioners.

Recall of the bill is taken as an indication that the Governor will continue to disapprove salary raising measures except in few cases.

The Boyd measure would have increased the salaries of commissioners in counties of the third, fourth, fifth and sixth class. Originally it was intended only for those of the fourth class but was sent back to committee for amendment until all the other classes were included.

The Governor also announced approval of seven bills. They included that of Representative Ellwood Turner, Delaware, which would permit the levy of a two mill tax for purchase and maintenance of fire equipment in second class townships.

The governor also approved a deficiency appropriation of $12,183 for the Pennsylvania Soldiers' and Sailors' Home at Erie.

All the workers are those who were employed in small veins and thin veins where production costs are the highest. Work in these classes of operations has been suspended.

Pymatuning Bill Passes Senate On Second Reading

Weingartner Measure Appropriating $350,000 Makes Progress

By WILLIAM B. BROWN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Pa., March 31.—With far less than a quorum present the senate in its first Thursday session today acted only on the second reading calendar. Action was postponed on all bills listed for final action until Monday night.

All but three of the bills listed for second reading were advanced to final consideration Monday night. Included were the Alexadner sponsored administration amendments to the administrative code and the Weingartner appropriation of $350,000 for development of the Pymatuning project.

One hundred and twenty-five appropriation bills which have passed the house were reported from committee and passed to second reading.

The senate Monday night also will consider the Salus firearm bill which has been restored to the calendar after having been defeated.

Detention Home Youths Escape; Steal Machine

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Pa., March 31.—Somewhere enroute to West Virginia Daniel Tolgenberg, 15, is speeding along in a stolen car today, which the youth drives clad only in a heavy blanket, according to county juvenile court detention room attaches.

The youth, together with two others, Tony and Angelo Gulutz, brothers, escaped from the detention room minus their clothing, taking with them a number of blankets.

The brothers were found walking along the road here a short time later, and they said Tolgenberg made his escape in a stolen car. They believed he headed toward his home in Elm Grove, W. Va.

Tolgenberg was wanted on charges of stealing an automobile, while the brothers were held as waifs. They made their escape from the detention room by sliding down an improvised rope ladder.

Union Miners To Cease Work Friday Morning

Little Hope Of Eleventh-Hour Agreement Checking Strike

MINERS ARE URGED TO BE PEACEABLE

Western Pennsylvania To Be Hardest Hit By Mine Strike

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, March 31.—"A cessation of work appears inevitable", Philip Murray, international vice president of the United Mine Workers, declared today on the eve of the scheduled suspension.

Murray's statement was the first acknowledgment by a union official that virtually all hope of any action to forestall a suspension had been abandoned. Heretofore union leaders had maintained tactful silence.

To Maintain Order.

"Union leaders have called upon their people to maintain the best of order," Murray added. "We urge the miners to be peaceable and to have lawful respect for constituted authorities."

Union coal operators maintained silence as to their plans. The Pittsburgh Producers Association, thru which they spoke as a unit during the 1922 strike, has been dissolved, leaving the union operators without an official spokesman in this region.

As the union's first move in the scheduled suspension, Murray announced he had filed with the Pittsburgh council of churches, specific charges of alleged immoral conditions in mining camps of the Pittsburgh Coal Company, which operates eighteen mines on the open shop plan.

In Illinois Fields.

CHICAGO, March 31.—All was in readiness today for suspension of soft coal mining at midnight tonight in the central competitive field, embracing western Pennsylvania, Illinois, Ohio and Indiana.

Some 150,000 members of the United Mine Workers' Union and virtually all of the bituminous coal mines in the area will be affected by the suspension, which follows the expiration of the Jacksonville wage scale.

The union wants a new contract providing substantially the same basic pay as the Jacksonville agreement—$7.50 a day or a proportionate amount to miners working on a tonnage basis.

The operators, claiming they cannot compete under that wage scale with non-union fields in West Virginia and Kentucky, want the miners to accept a reduction.

Disagreement Result.

An attempt was made at the recent Miami conference to draw up a new contract, but the apparently wide gulf separating the aims of operators and miners, resulted in a disagreement.

Since the disagreement John L. Lewis, president of the miners' union, proposed that operators continue to pay the Jacksonville scale pending agreement on a new contract.

This proposal has been generally rejected, according to officials of the various operators' organizations. Union officials maintain however,

Cantonese Holding Catholic Mission

Sharon Man One Of Returned Missionaries From Evacuated Mission

By DAVID P. SENTNER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, March 31.—With their missions in the interior of China in the hands of the Cantonese forces, seven Roman Catholic missionaries of the American Dominican Fathers are in Kowloon, near Hong Kong, awaiting developments, Rev. Edward Hughes, director of missions of the Holy Name Society, told International News Service today.

Four other members of the dominican order, their missions seized or looted, are back in America awaiting word to return when the turmoil in China ceases.

The seven dominican priests in Kowloon are: Rev. H. A. Burke, New Haven, Conn.; Rev. W. F. Cassidy, Michigan City, Ind.; Rev. R. E. Brennan, Lima, O.; Rev. F. A. Gordon, Somerset, O.; Rev. J. M. Barrett, Lowell, Mass.; Brother James Murphy, Omaha, Neb., and Brother Jordan Warnack, Providence, R. I.

The four returning dominican priests brought back a thrilling tale of escape through the Cantonese army when the southern Chinese troops were sweeping through toward Shanghai. The four were the Rev. Paul Curran of McKeesport, Pa.; Rev. B. C. Werner of Sharon, Pa.; Rev. G. R. Grace of Boston, and Rev. J. J .O'Donnell of Boston.

stand it. Mrs. Elliott had endeavored to comfort her, but without success.

Last Heard From

On Saturday evening, March 5, on going off duty, Miss Elliott put on her street clothing and left the hospital. She has not been heard of or seen since that time, according to the mother. She seemed distressed according to her roommate and other nurses whom she met at the time and did not answer when they asked her if she was going home.

It was thought for a time, according to Mrs. Elliott that possibly she had gone to some relatives but inquiry among them and friends has failed to bring any word concerning her or her possible whereabouts. Her associates at the hospital and her roommate have had no word of her since that time.

As a result the police have been furnished with cards bearing a description of her and these are being sent to Chicago, New York, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia and other points in the hope that she may be located.

She was wearing a tan dress, gray bar coat trimmed in fur, and a black hat when she left the hospital. She has dark brown hair.

The last her mother saw of her was on the Friday night before she disappeared when she visited the hospital.

The daughter had visited her home on the Monday and Tuesday night of that week.

There doesn't seem to be much trouble meeting expenses—one meets them everywhere.

UNION MINERS TO CEASE WORK FRIDAY MORNING

that it has been favorably received in many areas.

Rice Miller, president of the Coal Operators' Association of Illinois, declared today there was slight hope for a last-minute agreement as the operators expected the union to enter a conference with the understanding that lower wages would be accepted.

No Intention Of Breaking Union.

Miller declared today the Illinois operators were not expecting to import strike breakers.

"We have no intention of breaking up the union," he said.

The early spring and presence of large stocks of coal above ground were factors in support of the belief the suspension might extend at least well into the summer.

Illinois, one of the greatest bituminous coal producing states in the union, turned out 68,000,000 tons last year.

"We could have produced double that amount," said Miller, "but we can't sell that much in competition with non-union West Virginia and Kentucky fields the wage scales of which are some $2 a day less than ours."

Make Statement.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, March 31.—On the eve of the shutdown of Ohio mines, which amounts to a virtual suspension of the coal mining industry in this state, the Ohio coal bureau has made public figures in an endeavor to show the rapid falling off in production of coal in Ohio during the last few years.

Union wage scales which Ohio operators claim have placed them at a disadvantage in competing with non-union mines in West Virginia, and other coal mining districts, are cited by the bureau as reasons for the decline.

According to the table of figures the number of men employed in mining operations in this state decreased from 55,935 in 1923 to 44,333 in 1924, and to 39,900 in 1925.

Production totaled 40,904,275 tons in 1923; 30,965,893 in 1924 and 27,514,760 in 1925, according to the chart.

Ohio coal operators are scheduled to meet in conference at Toledo today but according to S. H. Robbins, president of the organization, the meeting will not affect the stand taken by the association in refusing to accept the proposal by the miners union which offered to continue work at the present scale, pending further negotiations.

The Jacksonville agreement expires at midnight tonight.

No immediate effect on the consumer is expected, owing to the large supplies of coal on hand and the near approach of summer.

The most serious aftermath of the suspension will probably be felt in the economic life of the districts where coal mining is virtually the only industry.

His Piles Gone In Just Five Days

Almost A Miracle, He Tells His Friends

He suffered intense agony from piles for years. The itching—the burning—the terrible straining almost drove him crazy.

He went to his druggist and bought a tube of Pile-Foe because he had read an ad that guaranteed it to "end all pile distress, agony, itching and burning in 5 days or money back."

It cost him a dollar, but as he tells his friends when boosting Pile-Foe, "It was worth a thousand. It stopped all misery as if by magic. It was all O. K. in five days. It was almost a miracle how speedily they vanished."

Pile-Foe is a physician's prescription that McKee's Kut Rate Store and druggists everywhere rigidly guarantee.

Town Talk

Here's another chance for you old timers. Who owns the oldest sewing machine in this vicinity? One is reported in the Youngstown district that is 65 years old. Can we beat it? Write The News about your machine if it is an old one.

Spring flowers are beginning to make themselves noticed about the city. Several properties are resplendent with groups of these early blooming spring flowers.

Robins are plentiful enough now. Quite a flock was noted on one of the north hill streets this morning.

The early gardeners are already at work on some of the back yard garden plots about the city.

Time to clean up your premises.

Rivers which threatened to reach flood stage in this vicinity a few days ago, have receded until they are nearly at normal stage once more.

Beware—tomorrow is April 1.

While there will be quite a large number of movings noted in the city during the next few days as a result of the annual spring season for flittings, moving day, no longer is of the importance that it was years ago. Probably a majority of the residents of the city today live in their own home, and moving day has no meaning to them. Years ago, when a much larger proportion of the population lived in rented homes, the annual moving day was quite a notable occasion in the life of a family.

Another thing that is to be noted in the recurrence of the annual moving day period, is the ease with which a family's possessions can be transported now-adays. Years ago, before the day of the great auto trucks, it required four or five dray wagon loads at least to transport a family's possessions from one house to another. Today, some of the moving trucks are so large that one or two loads will do the trick.

Announcement made yesterday of an extension to be erected to the Union Trust company building on North Mercer street, is another forward step that means decrease in downtown parking space. The space is the rear of the bank building, to be utilized in the extension, has been used as a parking space for autos since the big bank building was erected. The utilizing of this space by the bank means that there will be that much less downtown parking space off the streets.

East Washington street today had all the appearance of "housecleaning". Several stores are being vacated for quarters in other buildings. Passersby stopped to watch the proceedings. Farther toward Water street a large throng stormed a sale at a store.

and possible rupture of internal organs. This belief was heightened by the fact that his physicians fixed splints to Ford's chest and back becouse of the pain he suffered in breathing.

The Studebaker car and its two mysterious occupants lay in wait for the automobile king outside his Dearborn laboratory in the drizzle of last Sunday night, International News Service learned from a source close to the billionaire. The car was parked there and the occupants hailed Ford as he drove up to his office building in Dearborn. Ford worked in his office an hour and when he left the Studebaker was still parked outside.

Car Following

The auto king, according to information reaching International News Service, started for his estate a mile and a half away, and just inside the Detroit city limits. As he rolled along, Ford became aware that the big Studebaker was following him. Just before he reached the River Rouge, which flanks his estate, Ford noticed the big car gaining on him. The auto king's little coupe, however, was equipped with extra gears and capable of going 75 miles an hour.

When Ford realized the Studebaker was actually chasing him, it was said, he "stepped on" the Ford and it responded just as he reached the approach to the bridge over the River Rouge. At that moment, a fender of the Studebaker scraped his coupe but without damage.

Once clear of the bridge, Ford immediately slowed down, believing the Studebaker was occupied by joy-riders, and swerved to one side to let the pursuing car pass. It was then, the Studebaker shot forward at terrific speed, crashed into the left rear fender of Ford's coupe, turned his car sideways and tossed it over the curbstone. Before Ford could shut off the power, the coupe plunged down the embankment, struck a tree and finally halted.

Believe Deliberate Plot

It was the belief of Ford's friends that the occupants of the Studebaker deliberately tried to knock Ford's coupe into the River Rouge and its twenty feet of swirling water. If this was the plot and they had succeeded, Ford would have drowned without a chance for his life. His friends believe he escaped solely because Ford is one of the best drivers in the country and because his little coupe was specially equipped and capable of much greater speed than the Ford car sold to the general public.

The thory of a plot incidentally was shared by the police of Dearborn, Mich., who investigated the supposed accident. Chief of Police Fred Faustman announced that he believed Ford's car was struck by a machine which "lay in wait for him."

Following the crash in which Ford was thrown clear of his car, the auto king lay unconscious for an unknown period before he recovered sufficently to stagger on to his estate, a hundred yards distant. It was this exposure to the drizzling rain which caused his physicians to fear the auto king might develop pneumonia in his weakened condition.

Officials of the Ford company meanwhile used all their efforts to deprecate the extent of the auto king's injuries and to halt talk of a murder plot. They were said to be acting on explicit instructions from the billionaire. Ford it was said, feared that newspaper accounts of an attempted assassination might induce further attempts on his life.

In the formal statement telling of the accident yesterday, included this significant sentence: "Mr. Ford strongly deprecates the suggestion that the accident was the result of intent on anyone's part." This was included in the announcement of the crash, it was said, at Ford's personal insistence, although there had been no suggestion until that moment of a murder plot.

The car driven by Ford was a special job, equipped with gear shift and wire wheels. It was undamaged by the plunge except for a bent fender where it collided with a tree. Ford workmen removed it from the scene within a few minutes. The license was issued to Henry Ford, according to police and is said to be the only license in the name of the manufacturer.

Starts Investigation

DETROIT, March 31.—Assistant Prosecutor Joseph O. Castellucci today started an investigation into the accident in which Henry Ford was injured by two hit-and-run motorists who are suspected of plotting to assassinate the motor magnate.

Castellucci ordered Dearborn police to furnish him immediately with a complete report on the case.

A bulletin issued by Ford's physicians at the Henry Ford hospital said the billionaire's condition was progressing satisfactorily, but he was "still in considerable distress".

Lockhart Appointed Receiver For New Castle Paper Co.

Attorney John P. Lockhart was appointed receiver for the New Castle Paper Products company following a hearing before Judge Hildebrand yesterday. Frank R. Woods and H. W. Lockley were appointed appraisers to make an inventory of the assets of the company. The work is to be done at once and the return to court is expected on April 25. It was shown at the hearing that the company does not have sufficient capital to carry on the business.

CHARLES B. DRISCOLL

THE FUTURE PAPER CROP

It has been known for some time that paper can be made out of cornstalks, certain marsh grasses, and certain kinds of weeds. But paper can be made of your new suit of clothes, for that matter. The difficulty lies in the circumstance that your new suit and the cornstalks and the weeds are too expensive, by the time they get to the paper mill, to be practical sources of a cheap paper supply. There is nothing more essential to the continuation of our civilization than illimitable sources of cheap paper.

Prof. E. V. Collins, of the agricultural college at Ames, Iowa, thinks he has about completed the forging of the most important link between the growing cornstalk and the paper mill. It is a machine designed to cut the stalk off close to the ground, husk the corn, shred the stalk for baling, and perform other essential operations quickly and effectively. If this machine can be made and operated inexpensively, the corn belt may soon supply much of the paper that it consumes in its reading. And the population of the corn states is reading more and more every year. The future big market for books is the Mississippi Valley.

Weeds, someone has said, are plants that we have not learned to use. There are several well-known weeds from which paper could be made if the weeds could be raised in sufficient quantity and harvested with little expense.

It has long been my belief that there is no field of experimental research more promising than the study of weeds. Some young men now in high school or college ought to be able to give the world a practical solution of the paper problem through intensive study of good weeds and how to grow and harvest them.

One of the major problems, of course, is to produce a paper with sufficent tensile strength to stand the strain of printing from rolls on a fast newspaper press. At present the only practical paper for this use is made from wood pulp. But the forests of suitable woods are being used up, and there is no time to grow other forests before the next editions are ready for the press. Our civilization must have newspapers, and plenty of them, at low prices. Let the young men in the laboratories and on the farms show us how to turn the weeds into newspapers and books, and our American civilization will be given a new lease of life.

Evangelist Howe Has Good Meeting At Ellwood, Ind.

Evangelist L. C. Howe who conducted a special evangelistic campaign in the Edenburg Christian church and occupied a number of pulpits in this city a few months ago, has just closed a successful revival meeting in the Christian church at Ellwood, Ind., word to friends here states.

According to the reports there were 66 additions to the church during the revival of three weeks. The meeting closed last Sunday with two great services. Many visitors were present from surrounding towns and communities.

The auditorium was filled at the morning service and chairs were used to help seat the evenig audience assembled to hear the closing sermon of the meeting. There were 513 in the Bible school.

On Monday evening Rev. Howe delivered a special message to the converts on the subject "Growing in Christian Character." On Tuesday evening Rev. Howe lectured on "God and the Florida Hurricane."

The evangelist came to this city some time in the early winter from Miami, Fla., after under going the nerve racking experience of the Florida hurricane. He made many friends while here who will be pleased to learn of his wonderful success in the Indiana town.

STRANGE MINING DISASTER TAKES BUT FOUR LIVES

the explosion. The mine extends back into the mountainside for seven miles. Another group of 17 men were led by their foreman through another airshaft, while the remained filed out at another entrance."

Blakeslee's story of the explosion was corroborated by officials of the U. S. Bureau of Mines. The superintendent and his foreman complimented their men upon their demeanor while their fate was in doubt and while they were awaiting their turn to step through the narrow passageways out of the jaws of death. There was no semblance of panic in any of the numerous workings, Blakeslee reported.

The four bodies were taken to a morgue at South Fork, across the Conemaugh river from Ehrenfeld, where they will be prepared for burial. All of the injured miners were removed to their homes. They were reported in good condition.

Company officials expect the mine to be operating again in a few weeks. Timbers and supports at the base of the incline were torn up for several hundred feet, but repair crews can reconstruct the damaged passageway within a week, it was estimated.

Dr. R. A. Waldron Makes Address

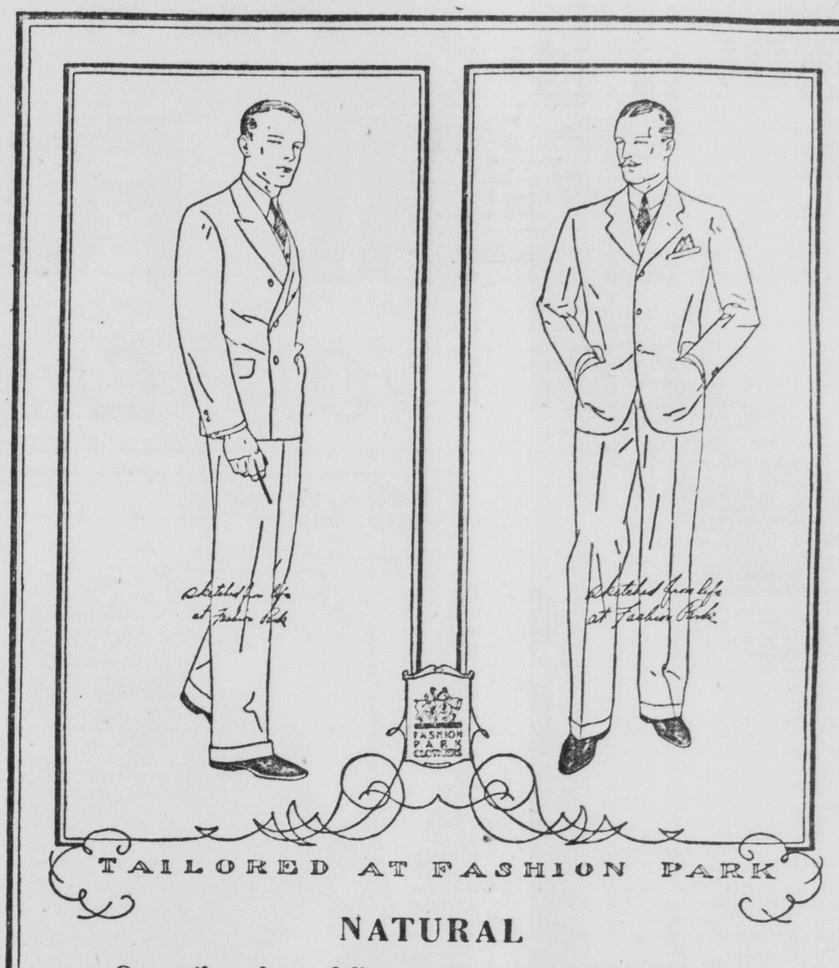

Normal School Man Speaks To Pupils In Martin Gantz School

Dr. R. A. Waldron of the Slippery Rock State Normal school gave an excellent talk on "Nature" to the fifth and sixth grade pupils of the Martin Gantz school at 4:00 o'clock, Wednesday afternoon, March 30.

Dr. Waldron stated that there are many untrue things said about nature. As the talk proceeded the audience was made to feel that they would no longer accept these untrue statements, but would go out and seek first-hand information.

Some of the interesting things discussed were the earthworm, grasshopper, cricket and the skunk.

Although the talk was given after school hours and the attendance was not compulsory, over 100 pupils attended. Thus is shown a growing interest in the study of nature in this school.

U. S. COURSE IN CHINA WILL BE DECIDED SOON

ready lodged a strong protest with the Nationalist government over the Nanking incident, and at the proper time will demand reparations for American losses suffered there, officials here are disinclined to believe that anything will be gained at this time by brandishing a "big stick" under Cantonese noses.

Situation Delicate

The situation is regarded here as extremely and gravely delicate. Although momentarily quiet, anti-foreign sentiment is increasing so rapidly throughout all of China that any spark may set off a series of Nanking incidents, and there are still hundreds of Americans in the interior of China far beyond the reach of the guns of any warship. The feeling prevails here that any precipitate or abrupt action at this time on the part of the powers, acting in unison, mikht set off that spark.

There are also fundamental differences between the British and American positions in China that this government wishes to see maintained. The British "stake" in China is much larger. Britain has Hong Kong while the American government has never asked nor does it want a concession of similar nature in China. The fact is not lost sight of here, either, that a good part of Britain's strong stand in China is dictated by British fears of what may happen in Indian if British prestige is shattered in China. Consequently while fully sympathetic with Britain's determination to protect the lives and property of her nationals, and willing to co-operate to that extent, there is a well-defined reluctance on the part of the administration to adopt any course calculated merely to help pull Britain's chestnuts out of the fire or to maintain her prestige in the orient.

President Coolidge has already stated with emphasis that American military and naval forces in China will be maintained on an independent basis, and not "pooled" with those of any other powers under a supreme command. The American units are designated primarily for protection of American lives and property. If in so doing they can afford protection to the interests of other powers, well and good; if not, they will continue to look after their own.

A summary of the existing situation in the Yangtze river valley, where hundreds of Americans are being evacuated to treaty ports, where they will be under the protection of American guns, was cabled to the Navy Department today by Admiral Williams at Shanghai. Secretary Wilbur took it to the White House and laid it before President Coolidge during the forenoon.

District Court Denies Appeal In Sinclair Verdict

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 31.—Harry F. Sinclair's motion for a new trial, following his conviction for contempt of the senate, was denied today by Justice Hitz, in district supreme court.

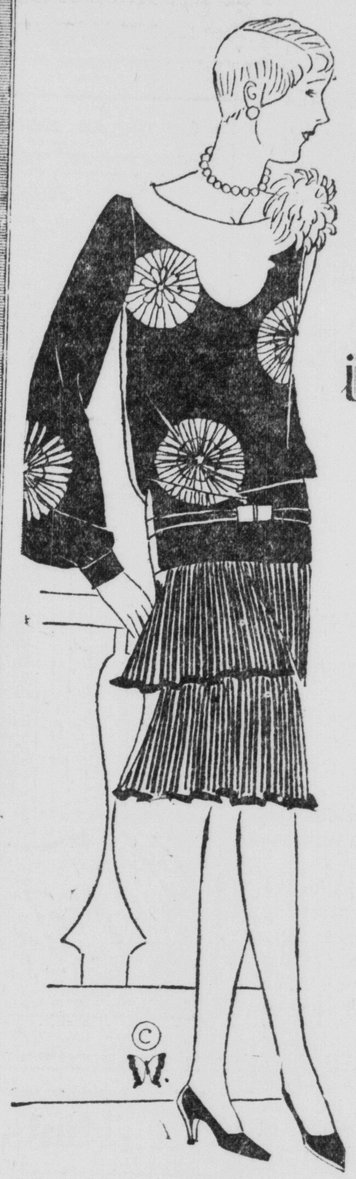

The oil magnate's attorneys are not expected to appeal to the court of appeals, and if they lose there, eventually to the United States supreme court.

The maximum sentence possible for Sinclair is a year in jail for refusing to answer the questions propounded by the senate investigation committee.

VANDALS EVER

SPRING means blossoms and greens, blossoms and greens mean pickers, pickers mean vandals.

There is a well-defined distinction drawn between the "picker" and the vandal. And there is no better time than the present to call public attention to that difference.

Since woodland, hill and field were brought within the reach of all by the automobile, the spring flower has about as much chance of dying over its own roots as a farm bill has of becoming law.

Just as soon as the wild blooms and greens burst through their winter covering of dead leaves and snow the pack is upon them. Some pluck a boutonniere, others transplant a fern or diminutive conifer, and are content to worship the rest in their native temples. They are the pickers.

The vandal of the springtime is he or she who picks for the sake of picking. This type concerns itself not about conserving the plants so they may bloom again next year, and forgets there are other people to whom a field or forest carpeted with tender flowers and greens is a thing too beautiful to destroy or mar. When the vandal is in the field up come the precious roots and away go the flowers, trampled under foot or thrown into the car to die of thirst and the heat before they can reach the vase on the dining room table.

None is to be censured for loving the wild flower, but some are too violent in their love. True love never destroys. And what right has anyone to monopolize these idols nature has provided for human worship?

Those who go in search of wildflowers should remember there are no longer enough to go around and that when they pluck and pull they are robbing nature of her beauty, which is her gift to all mankind.

AMERICA LAGS IN THE AIR

THAT it is Germany's fixed intention to rehabilitate herself as a dominant power by an intense concentration upon civil aviation has been the repeated statement since the war of observers who have returned from visits to German airdromes, factories and laboratories.

Such reports have until recently lacked conviction. They have been opinions, not statements of facts. Now, however, in the light of recent news—authentic beyond a doubt—such individual reports stand confirmed in a manner which is beyond disbelief.

Already Germany is operating forty airplane lines between her larger cities. And between some of these airports one may travel by plane at a lower fare and in a much shorter time than by rail. Not content with this system the country, through its government and private enterprise, plans more lines and larger, more luxurious planes.

German leaders in aviation are convinced the economic world development of tomorrow will be in the air, and that a great wave of economic activity which is now approaching will be concentrated in the hands of those countries best prepared for aerial development. That the nation has the courage of her convictions is best illustrated by her generosity in the way of aviation subsidies.

Up to this time the United States has not discovered any real economic need for commercial aviation. Because of its speed, aviation is filling a long-felt need in the mail service of the nation and there are a few commercial passenger and freight lines sufficiently in demand to be operated at a profit. But the real question before the American people is if it will suffer a generation hence by failing now to keep pace with other nations in the development of commercial flying.

SPRING PHENOMENA

THIS is the time of the year when a certain percentage of the male population of cities (never reduced to a mathematical certainty) consider buying farms. Scientific research has never concerned itself with the causes which lead so many men who have made a place for themselves in urban competition to turn in the days of their success to wistful consideration of the possibility of making themselves over into agriculturists.

Perhaps it is the spirit of adventure; the same anticipatory zest in the unknown which leads a Livingstone to Africa and a Byrd to the North Pole. Or perhaps it is heredity which turns the modern business man back to the occupation which certain remote cells in his system tell him has belonged to the race for many centuries. Or he may come by it more directly through being the son of a farmer, the kind of son who in his youth shies from the old man's job in later years flies back to it—for play or for profit, or for both.

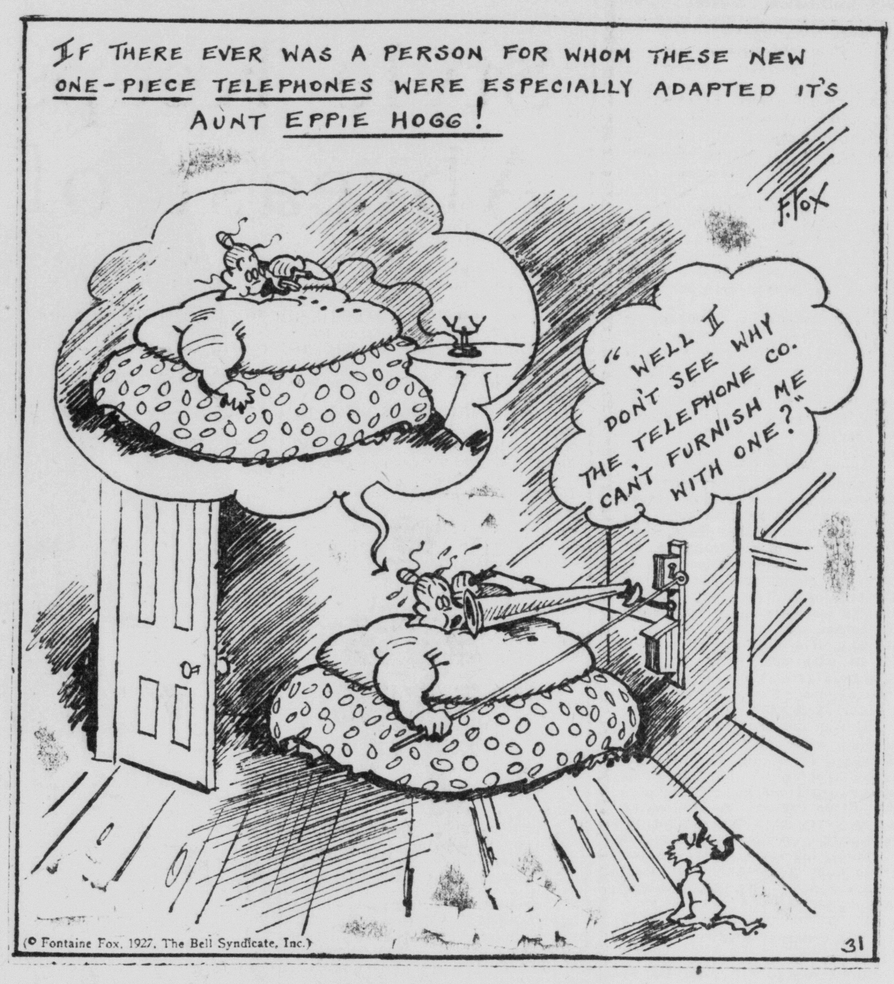

Whatever may be the biological origin of the city man's impulse to till the soil, the fact remains that an uncommon lot of people, both men and women, annoy themselves in the spring time by dreaming of a personally-conducted back to the land movement. The truth probably is that suburban property was expressly invented to enable the city man to get the agricultural bug out of his system without tossing up his perfectly good city job.

It is now feared that bobbing may cause baldness. It is certain to make the hair shorter, at any rate.

If one borrows money it is better to be a nation than an individual. A nation is given more time in which to pay.

Automatic traffic signals are hardly a success. They cannot express an opinion of the driver who disregards them.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 6:23. Sun rises tomorrow 5:45.

We'd all like to find a country with no laws, no jails, no candidates, no elections and no taxes, but chances are after we found the place we wouldn't live there.

The law providing a new judge for Lawrence county has at least helped the railroad running between here and Harrisburg. New Castle certainly has a time getting any kind of a judge.

It is stated that non-union miners will be able to supply all the coal needed in this country if the union miners go out on a strike. We would like to see the figures making it possible to win a strike under such conditions.

According to reports, there are a great many real old Bibles in this vicinity, many being hundreds of years old. And also, most all of the Bibles of great age are in wonderful state of preservation, which naturally leaves the thought that they have not been handled or used much.

Possibly "beauty expert" refers to intentions instead of results.

Mistakes do occur in newspapers, and always have and always will. A few days ago a mix-up occurred on the first page of The News, but was discovered before many papers got out on the street. That night some yap called us up and asked us to read the first page and hung up the receiver without telling who he was. We think we knew the voice, however, and if we ever get a chance he will know who it is and there will be no doubt on his part. We knew of the mistake.

You may have noticed the critics, knockers, etc., you hear and know are not noted for any marked capacity for composing difficult situations, but that does not keep them from making a disagreeable and destructive noise.

There is a right and wrong way of doing everything, which is the reason that we always make mistakes.

We do not hear of any congressmen or senators asking to go on a paid junket to China to see if the war is being fought all right.

We have an idea that children can be taught to like most anything if they are taught things while young. Our little grandson just loves carrots and it is probably because he was given them to eat about the first thing when he started eating regular eats.

There are people who, if they are not a nuisance, are a joke.

The Chamber of Commerce is a great institution in the South. We were told that people who did not belong to the organization were boycototed by those who did belong. It is a civic duty in the South to boost and work hard for one's home city. Not a bad idea for some cities in the North to adopt.

Lots of birds when they make speeches talk about a half an hour to an hour and a half.

A football player in France killed himself because his team lost a game. When we see a flock of those enthusiastic football and basketball fanatics we often wonder why some of them don't at least kill each other in their frenzy. Some people sure do take sport seriously and we cannot see how it can be fun for them.

The fellow who goes after business has no time to complain about things being slow.

Lady Astor, a member of the English Parliament, says she is married and she has a full-time job taking care of her husband. Most women are not that anxious to properly care for a husband, but most of them keep an eye on them, anyhow.

GERMS

There's much in life I'd hate to miss,
And least of all a maiden's kiss.
Seek north or south or east or west
There's naught so sweet as rosy mouth.

The medics claim that microbes lurk
Around the lips and slyly work
To spread some latin-named contagion
That needs a doctor to despatch it.
Though it may be so, this much I'll say—
I'd leave a dog fight any day
To rush where such disease is raging,
And try my darndest not to catch it.

Away with the bogies!
They are only old fogies—
Who would deny such blissful pleasure.
To honey sip
From maiden's lip—
Shall joy afford in fullest measure.

Disease there is, we must admit.
To think of kissing brings a fever,
But it doesn't seem to parch a bit.
An no one seeks inoculation.
But when Sir Cupid slips,
And falls on Beauty's lips—
I swear ,'tis mighty hard to lear her,
'Thout swapping germs of osculation.

For Cupid's germs there is no germicidal;
But kissing germs are seldom homicidal—
And smiling lips shall not escape inspection,
By those who once have had acute infection.

I've oft been bit by kissing bugs,
And so have most all other men.
But now I'm deaf and old and bald—
But O, how I'd like to be bitten again.

—Frank W. Tyler.

Police are looking for thieves who stole three overcoats from a church at Washington, Pa. We hope they find them, as lots of birds will use that as an excuse for staying away from church. Too mamny are staying away from church now on flimsy excuses.

The police in New York City are trying to take all the joy out of a visit by a provincial to that city. They are stopping the naughty Broadway shows and locking up the night clubs. People from the ploughed ground do not go to New York to attend prayer meetings. They do that at St. Petersburg, Florida.

From Constantinople, Turkey, comes the word that stomach dancing has been outlawed and banned. This puts an end to those funny kind of dances that are supposed to have such an appeal to men. In our own little humble opinion the Charleston, Black Bottom and others of the same time, backed by the numbers who danced them, were too much for the "can-can" of the Turks. Barring their own dances and substituting the present kind isn't very much of a reform.

Up to date the conclusion in the oil cases seems to be there was some crookedness but no crooks.

It seems as though political troubles are always multiplied by division.

Sectionalism is the wild urge to reform a distant region whose people and problems you know nothing about.

Noted chemists are of the opinion that useful chemicals can be secured from the stones of various fruits and they are experimenting along that line. Undoubtedly they will find something in peach and cherry stones that can be used. You know, it used to be said that every thing about the pig was used except the equeal, but since the saxophone got that, the entire pig is valuable.

In two weeks time 336 drivers' licenses have been revoked in New York. If that kind of work can be kept up it won't take very many years to get all the reckless drivers and the drunken ones too.

A woman who lives in Akron, O., and who is 78 years old is just recovering from the childish illness of whooping cough. Now this isn't at all surprising. With the old dames getting their hair bobbed and becoming childish in looks and actions in every way that it is humanly possible for them to do so we must expect them to get childish ailments also.

Common sense is the principal requirement for safe driving a noted auto authority asserts. And as the unknown philosopher said, the strange thing about common sense is that it isn't common. So safe driving looks to be something we won't get.

One reason why the old-time matron was thinner was because a canary wasn't her only responsibility.

Personal liberty is almost a thing of the past in every city. Pittsburgh policemen were instructed by their superiors to have their moustaches shaved off and not to report for duty until they had obeyed the order. Some brushes that have been years in the growing have gone down the sewer. And the strange thing is that none of the cops have been heard to yammer about their personal liberty being curtailed.

From Albany, N. Y., comes the latest attempt to curb the jay walkers and the country is watching with interest the result of the experiment there. Police officers tag those who do the walking and like the autoist who parks wrong, he goes before the Mayor or police magistrate, and pays a fine of $1 for the first offense. The second offense means a larger fine and so on. Now that has the earmarks of a sensible and reasonable plan. If it is wrong for an autoist to violate the rules and regulations laid down to regulate traffic, why should an individual be permitted to violate the rules of safety and get away with it? We would like to hear more from this city on how it works out.

We don't know very much about baseball trading, but we have the impression that it perpetuates the ethical standards of horse trading.

Vincent Astor Brings News.
203.8 Miles An Hour.
Novel, But Useless.
Let The Lady Have It.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1927, By N. Y. American, Inc.

Vincent Astor of New York brings from Europe information for builders of airships and fast cruisers. Germans have perfected Diesel engines for fast cruisers, weighing only eighteen pounds per horsepower, as against the standard of 190 pounds per horsepower. This should interest the United States if it decides to build cruisers, instead of weeping on Europe's cold shoulder, sobbing: "Please disarm."

Even more important is Astor's news of a new flying engine perfected by Swiss engineers and manufactururs. Germany's great flying company, the Luft Hansa, will equip zeppelins with this new Swiss engine for trans-Atlantic flight. The new Diesel flying engine will weigh five pounds per horsepower, too, heavy, according to present plans, for airplanes. But they will use oil instead of gasoline, doing away with danger from fire.

And in power development, oil will be twice as efficient as gasoline in proportion to weight, which may more than make up for extra engine weight.

Switzerland's new Diesel flying engine will easily take a powerful zeppelin across the Atlantic, with thousands of miles of cruising range to spare.

Astor will give our shipbuilders an opportunity to study the new, efficient Diesel engine for boats. He is having such engines installed in his big new yacht, which, thanks to the new engine, will have a cruising radius of 18,000 miles.

Seabrave, British automobile racer, shattered all world records Tuesday by driving 203.8 miles an hour at Daytona, Fla. The best American record is 156 miles an hour.

This is a tribute to British manufacturing efficiency, and to Seagrave's courage. But it is only interesting, without practical importance. An automobile with that speed could not be used. What the world needs is the 500-mile an hour flying machine. Britain, Germany and Switzerland, poor as church mice compared with the United States, will show us how to build it.

When a lady wants a divorce in these days of self-expression the wise course is to let her have it.

Mrs. Snyder wanted a divorce, so neighbors say, and begged her husband to consent that she might marry somebody else. He refused. She and the somebody else have confessed they killed Snyder. Whatever your opinion of divorce, it is better than being hit on the head with a sash weight and then having picture wire fastened tightly around your neck.

Thirty-six days ago James Frederick Stratton, British, became jealous of Daisy May and murdered her in a railway carriage. Tuesday he was hanged. They wind those things up quickly in England. Here such an interesting murderer would need thirty-six days to straighten out flowers sent to his cell. And any insurance company would gladly insure his life for two or three days.

For the second time Nicaraguans fire with machine guns on an American airplane flying over the neutral zone. The machine gun operators are opposed to President Diaz, whom the United States seeks to uphold in Nicaragua.

It would be too bad, as Will Rogers might say, to have our airplane damaged. But we might build two or three more or buy them ready-made in Europe, to make sure that they can actually fly, and thus impress the Nicaraguans.

In Day's News

Andrew O'Connor of Worcester, Mass., who has been invited by the Turkish government to make a statue of President Mustapha Kemal for erection in front of the Parliament building in Angora, the new capital of Turkey is an Irish-American sculptor whose education was eclectic and largely parental. His early childhood disclosed an interest in modeling and in sculpture and won for him a chance to experiment and to learn by doing. In his early professional career he did much creditable work for churches and public buildings and in later years his fame as a sculptor has been enhanced by the portrait statues of Generals Liscum, Thomas, Lawton and Lew Wallace, Commodore Barry and Governor Johnson of Minnesota and other eminent civilians. One of the most notable of Mr. O'Connor's works is his statue of Lincoln in Springfield Ill.

Dr. Crane's Editorial

FIRE

The most important invention of the human race was the discovery of fire.

Nobody knows who made the first fire. The Greeks had an interesting tradition that it was stolen from the gods by Prometheus and given to man. Some think that it is of volcanic origin.

Whatever its origin it has enabled man to be independent of place.

By means of it he can inhabit wintry zones and he can also use it, as in steam boilers and otherwise, as a most important tool to increase the productivity of his hands.

At any rate fires are very old in the history of the human race and go back to such time as "the memory of man runneth not to the contrary."

Some recent writer called attention to the fact that the amusements and comforts of today are based upon the necessary action of yesterday.

That is, little girls play with dolls because for ages their mothers had been nursing babies.

Baseball is a great sport because our ancestors used to wield tree limbs, run, and throw missiles, throwing, running and batting being the elements of the game.

The earliest communal center, that is the focus about which any group gathered, was a fire.

The community fire of the Indians about which they held their pow-wows has its place deep in the instincts of the race. It is for this reason that the steam radiator or hot-air furnace can never take the place of the open fire.

There is a pleasure about sitting around the glowing coals or burning wood which appeals to our strongest instincts. In such manner our ancestors gathered around the central fire.

Even in coming days, when all residences may be heated by electricity and kept at summer temperature during winter, the open fire will have its place. It not only has a practical use, but it appeals very strongly to sentiment.

IF YOU LIVE—

For revenge you will never find life permanently sweet.
For fame you will find the public very disappointing.
For money you will miss the most of the wealth of life.
For pleasure you will never be satisfied with your pleasures.
For fun only you will miss most of the best fun in life.
For yourself you will find it hardly worth while.
For laughter only you will soon find life growing stale.

Ah, well; Doheny can boast that few have contributed 21 million to the cause of patriotism.

POEMS HOVE

BY CHARLES HANSON TOWNE

"Awakening," by Margaret E. Sangster.

The late Mrs. Sangster was one of those beautiful spirits the world is the poorer for having lost. She wrote verse of a high order—it was not always poetry, and she would have been the first to admit that. She had a warm human appeal and for years she was widely quoted as, say, Ella Wheeler Wilcox or Eugene Field though she wrote like neither of them. She could say the obvious thing beautifully, imbue it with wonder; she was a natural melodist who could fall into any part, and the goodness which was in her heart and soul got into her lines. Sometimes she was too apt to have a definite "message", for her chief desire was to improve the world; yet one cannot quarrel with a philanthropist of dreams.

Never yet was a springtime
Late though lingered the snow,
That the sap stirred not at the whisper
Of the south wind, sweet and low;
Never yet was a springtime
When the buds forgot to blow.

Ever the wings of the summer
Are folded under the mould;
Life, that has known no dying,
Is Love's, to have and to hold.
Till sudden, the burgeoning Easter!
The song! the green and the gold!

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

STILL BUILDING BETTER

Mr. Pullman has been making deluxe railroad cars for a long time. Another step forward in Pullman car construction is now being displayed in a type ready to be turned over to the Baltimore & Ohio, the Michigan Central, and the Pennsylvania Railroads. The new car contains fourteen single bedrooms, with regular beds of standard length, replacing the conventional berth. The rooms are provided with hot and cold water, a folding table, chair, shoe box and a full-length mirror. Illumination is furnished by a parchment shaded lamp, and a reading lamp at the head of the bed. The rooms are decorated in soft shades of buff, brown, and green. To each room is attached a toilet. The usual electric fans are also found. It is positively the last word in railroad car construction.

It will be remembered that way back in the bygones, before any railroad line was seriously considered west of the Mississippi River, that Mark Twain, then in his youth, journeyed with his brother, who had just been appointed Secretary of the Nevada Territory, from St. Joseph, Missouri, to Carson City, Nevada, in an Overland Mail coach. The Overland Mail was a transportation system of no mean proportions, drawn by six horses over its first few stages, and thereafter by six mules over the succeeding stages. It traveled at an average speed of about twelve miles an hour. Ten miles was a stage; and little time was lost in changing mules at the end of the stage. From Omaha West, first the Mormons, then the stage coach line, then the Union Pacific, and finally the Lincoln Highway, followed a Trail which has not been deviated from five miles either way in all the years.

Mark Twain describes the trip in his story "Roughing It", and he contrasts particularly the trip as he made it from Omaha to Fort Kearney, with a story in the New York Times, appearing fourteen years later, concerning the trip made by a writer for that newspaper in Pullman cars upon the Union Pacific. Mark Twain writes as follows concerning the last stages into Fort Kearney as follows:

"So we flew along all day. At two p. m. the belt of the timber that fringes the North Platte and marks its windings through the vast level floor of the Plains came in sight. At four p. m. we crossed a branch of the river, and at five p. m. we crossed the Platte itself, and landed at Fort Kearney, fifty-six hours out from St. Joe.—Three Hundred Miles."

Then comes the contrast as appearing in the Times:

"At 4:20 p. m. Sunday we rolled out of the station at Omaha, and started westward on our long jaunt. A couple of hours out dinner was announced,—an 'event' to those of us who had yet to experience what it is to eat in one of Pullman's hotels on wheels; so, stepping into the car next forward of our sleeping palace, we found ourselves in the dining car. It was a revelation to us, that first dinner on Sunday. And though we continued to dine for four days and had as many breakfasts and suppers, our whole party never ceased to admire the perfection of the arrangements, and the marvelous results achieved. Upon tables covered with snowy linen, and garnished with services of solid silver, Ethiop waiters, flitting about in spotless white, placed as by magic a repast at which Delmonico himself could have had no occasion to blush; and indeed, in some respects it would be hard for that distinguished chef to match our menus; for, in addition to all that ordinarily makes up a first-chop dinner, had we not our antelope steak, (the gormand who has not experienced this,—bah! what does he know of the feast of fat things?) our delicious mountain brook trout, and choice fruits and berries, and (Sauce piquant and purchasable) our sweet-scented, appetite-compelling air of the prairies? You may depend upon it, we all did justice to the good things, and as we washed them down with bumpers of sparkling Krug, whilst we sped along at the rate of thirty miles an hour, agreed it was the fastest living we had ever experienced. (We beat that, however, two days afterward when we made twenty-seven miles in twenty-seven minutes; while our Champagne glasses filled to the brim spilled not a drop!) After dinner we repaired to our drawing room car, and, as it was Sabbath eve, intoned some of the grand old hymns,—'Praise God from whom', etc; 'Shining Shore', 'Coronation', etc.—the voices of the men singers and of the women singers blending sweetly in the evening air, while our train, with its great, glaring Polyphemus eye, lighting up long vistas of prairie, rushed into the night and the Wild. Then to bed in luxurious couches, where we slept the sleep of the just and only awoke the next morning (Monday) at eight o'clock, to find ourselves at the crossing of the North Platte, three hundred miles from Omaha,—fifteen hours and forty minutes out."

It will also be noticed that there were other luxuries enjoyed by Pullman passengers in bygone days!

Bible Thought For Today

GO WITH GOD—"Go and the Lord be with thee." I Sam. 17:37.
PRAYER—Carry us not up hence Except Thou go with us O Lord.

Believe Coal Strike Would Boom Lawrence County Small Mines

If the soft coal strike materializes in this state tomorrow, as forecasted, it will probably mean a boom for the small mines in Lawrence county and in this district.

On previous occasions when there has been coal mine suspension of work in some of the larger mines of Pittsburgh, a boom has been occasioned in the smaller mines of Lawrence county.

If the strike should drag along for a month or two, it would more than ever mean a boom for the local mines, as householders would begin stocking up their coal bins for next winter with local mined coal, in an effort to eliminate any possibility of shortage next winter.

There is quite a large quantity of coal produced in the little mines of Lawrence county, when all are in operation. Some of them have been worked steadily during the winter and others have only been worked at times.

Corn In Crib Is Exempt In Clean-up

Some farmers of Lawrence County have been wondering what they must do with corn in the crib on account of the corn borer regulations. Must it be fed or destroyed before May 1.

Word comes from the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture that it is exempt but advises that it be used if possible before the corn borer moth emerges in June.

Federal and State authorities have agreed that the immediate danger of corn borer spread from corn in the crib, at least so far as Pennsylvania is concerned, is so slight that requiring the complete destruction or utilization of the crib corn this spring is not warranted. Therefore, corn in the crib is not subject to the requirements of the clean-up regulations.

However, in commenting on this, C. H. Hadley, director, Bureau of Plant Industry, State Department of Agriculture says, "As a matter of general policy, I think it is advisable that crib corn be used if at all possible by the time when the corn borer moths begin to emerge early in June, although we do not feel it necessary to make this an absolute requirement for this season at least."

Seek Members For Foreign War Vets

The American Veterans of Foreign Service was chartered in Ohio on October 10, 1899, slightly more than twenty-seven years ago. The Colorado Society, Army of the Philippines was organized in Denver, September 12, 1899. The Foreign Service Veterans was started in Pennsylvania a short time after that. At Denver in 1913, the Veterans of Foreign Wars was formed by the amalgamation of these groups. With the close of the World War, the latest veterans were greeted by this national organization and they joined by thousands.

The future of this organization, as that of any other organization, depends on its objects and aims and the gaining of new members. Corporal Harry L. McBride Post No. 522, already has a large group of members, who by reason of their service in the United States army overseas and in the navy and marines in foreign waters and lands, have been eligible to join.

A movement is now on to interest every former service man, who has the required service for eligibility in becoming a member of the local post. The post here has proven its leadership in civic affairs and has a program of further activity, which should attract others to join it. New members are being received every meeting.

A Simple Application That Dissolves Blackheads

No more squeezing and pinching to get rid of those ugly blackheads. Get a little Calonite powder from any drug store, sprinkle a little on a hot, wet cloth, rub over the blackheads, and in two minutes every blackhead will be dissolved away entirely.

No Censorship Move Against The Night Hawk

Grace Valentine as Masie Buck, in "The Night Hawk".

In all the agitation concerning stage censorship, now raging in New York, no move was made against the play, the "Night Hawk". The play, which will be seen at the Scottish Rite auditorium this Saturday evening, prior to its engagement at the Nixon theater, Pittsburgh, is so unusual in theme and so serious in intent, that it has been proclaimed a masterpiece of drama.

While the "Night Hawk" has been called daring by the critics, there is not an offensive line or situation in it. Pity, heartfelt and genuine, is aroused for the heroine of the play, a streetwalker who wants to "come back".

From a plane so degraded as to beggar description she makes the heartbreaking climb to the light of respectability and rejuvenation. And through it all her lightness of heart and eternal optimism are so winning that she earns and holds sympathy from the start.

Hooper Atchley, featured player in scores of famous stage successes, and Miss Grace Valentine, well-known leading woman, head an exceptional cast of New York players.

FINAL HEARING DATE IS FIXED

State Commission To Hear Arguments On Bus Line Via Perry Highway

Final hearing on the Perry highway bus line will be held before the Pennsylvania Public Service commission at Harrisburg on Monday, April 11. It is thought that as a result of this hearing Norman D. Patterson of Grove City will be granted a franchise to establish a bus line between Harlansburg and Pittsburgh over the Perry highway.

The case of Patterson will be presented before the commission by ex-Judge William E. Porter of New Castle and Stirling G. McNees of Harrisville. The case of the Harmony Interurban company, which is the only protestant, will be presented by the firm of Taylor & McCahill of Pittsburgh.

After the arguments on both sides are heard the briefs will be filed and it will be some time after the hearing before the decision of the commission will be given. Mr. Patterson says that it looks as if the franchise will be granted.

The Bessemer & Lake Erie Railroad company has not opposed the project as they never appeared before the commission. The other protestants withdrew their objections after an agreement was made by Patterson with them. The most important firm making a protest which it afterward withdrew was the Pittsburgh Railways company which objected to the carrying of passengers by bus over the line that their street cars cover. They withdrew their obection when Mr. Patterson agreed to not pick up any pasengers that the street car company could serve.

Mr. Patterson is contemplating that the Perry highway will be improved with a modern hard surface road, but if the franchise is granted he says that he intends to start service at once. For that purpose he has purchased the large improved bus that is now being used on the Franklin-Grove City-New Castle bus line.

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

THE DAY

The day begins anew
With tasks to do,
Much like the last;
Its hours are fast,
Its length the same.
The sun aflame
Shall make its flight
And sink at night.

And I shall meet
Along the street
Men, young and old,
Warm hearts and cold;
Shall questioned be
And hear and see
And smile or frown
Till night comes down.

What is to be Depends on me
'Tis mine to say
Throughout the day
With what of strength
I'll fare its length,
With what of grace
I'll fill my place.

Lord, I would plan
To play the man
For this one day,
To walk my way
With temper good, Laugh when I should
And at my best

Movie Theatre Men Put Ban On 'Peaches'

Western Pennsylvania And W. Va. Association Decides Against Appearance

PITTSBURGH Pa., March 31.—"Peaches" Browning may hold the status of one to be "more pitied than scorned," but she cannot get a job in the 400 theatres affiliated with the Motion Picture Theatre Owners' association of Western Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

They decided that yesterday when, at a meeting in the William Penn hotel, the organization reiterated its policy of employing no performers "who have not earned, by hard work and ability, the right to appear as a member of the theatrical profession."

The association discussed plans for the annual convention to be held at the William Penn hotel on April 24, 25 and 26.

Girl Scout Council To Be Organized

Plans Being Made To Effect Organization In This City

Under the auspices of the Business and Professional Women, a local Girl Scout council will be organized here. They are anxious to put the Girl Scouts of the city on the same footing as the Boy Scouts.

As a first step in this direction, a meeting of the nominating committee was held in the children's room of the library. In the absence of the chairman of the committee, Miss Alice M. Sterling, Dr. C. W. Williamson acted at chairman. It was decided to elect a council of ten members, consisting of women of the city representing the various civic, educational, social and other interests of the community.

"Solid" books are the kind people read just enough of to talk about.

MERCER NEWS

All duplicates for the 48 tax collectors of Mercer county completed by May 1 is the hope of the clerical force of the county commissiners office.

All of the books from the assessors in the county are returned to the office of the commissioners with very few exceptions. All of the work of the clerks in making up the duplicates has been completed excepting the completion of the books for Grove City, Sharon, some of Farrell and Hempfield. Already a number of the tax duplicates for the 32 townships of the county have been returned to the road supervisors for their computation of road tax.

Should the books be all completed and returned my May 1 a record will be established for their early completion. This has been made possible by the levying of the county tax before the 1927 assessment was all returned. It is stated that there is every reason to believe that all of the duplicates will be finished as stated.

Four of the orators of the 15 high schools in Mercer county that will speak here on April 5 when the class B high schools compete and April 7 when the Clas A schools are carded have been chosen and returns made to the office of the county superintendent of schools. The others will be returned very soon as the last week was final for making this choice.

It is stated today by Prof. H. E. McConnell that each of the two contests is expected to be worth while. The orchestra of the Sharpsville high school will play for the contest of April 7; the orchestra of Mercer high will play for that of April 5.

Judges are now being selected for the two events. The two will be held in the assembly room of the court house.

Complaints on the condition of dirt roads made to road supervisors or even carried higher to the district attorney and office of the county commissioners are not being listened to with the awe that might be expected.

As it is tritely put by Commissioner F. P. Minner in charge of county roads the fact that the dirt roads are bad is no news with his office as enough reports have already arrived to indicate that every road in the county is impassable.

The complaint is general over the county but nothing can be done until the weather dries them up the commissioner states. The dragging of roads is done wherever possible which hastens this drying process.

Once weather conditions make it possible the commissioners will insist that the road supervisors get busy.

Washington Street Block Is Undergoing Many Changes Now

Within the next few months the north side of Washington street between Mill and Mercer streets is going to take on a much changed appearance.

Work is to be started at once rebuilding the front of the structure at Mill and Washington streets occupied for many years by Klafters and the Walkover Shoe Company. The two big rooms will be remodeled into one big store, to be occupied by a drug company.

Down the street a little further the same thing will be done with the storerooms formerly occupied by the Physicians' Pharmacy and the Mackey Wallpaper Store. This new store will extend clear back to the alley, taking in the building now occupied by the Brindle Printing Company. This remodeling work is also to be started at once.

At the corner of Mercer and Washington streets work will soon be started on the construction of the fine new six-story banking home for the First National Bank of Lawrence County.

All of these improvements are to be made within one block on Washington street this spring and summer.

Many Farm Homes Have Running Water

Lawrence County Among Leaders In Progress In State Report Shows

One out of every five farm houses in Pennsylvania has running water and a heating system, according to estimates as of January 1, 1927, compiled by the bureau of statistics, state department of agriculture. One of every eight farm homes is also equipped with a bathroom.

The number of farm homes having running wate· totals 47,138, or 20 per cent of all farms. The counties having the highest percentage of their farm homes equipped are Philadelphia, Chester, Delaware, Lancaster, York, Washington, Somerset, Schuylkill, Montgomery, Cambria and Allegheny.

Philadelphia county leads in percentage of farms having bathrooms, with more than two-thirds so equipped. Montgomery and Chester counties rank next with almost one-third having this convenience. Delaware and Allegheny follow with about one-fourth. Forest county takes bottom place with only 11 farms having up-to-date bathing equipment.

Farms having heating systems total 43,679, an increase of about 4,000 during the past year. The leading counties in percentage of farm homes equipped are Delaware, Chester and Westmoreland. Other counties having more than one-fourth of their farm homes so equipped include Allegheny, Beaver, Bedford, Chester, Erie, Fayette, Indiana, Lancaster, Lawrence, Lebanon, Lehigh, Montgomery, Northampton, Philadelphia, Schuylkill, Somerset, Susquehanna, Washington and Wayne.

Home Economics Plans At Liberty Grange

A meeting will be held in the Liberty Grange hall Thursday evening April 7 at 8 p. m. at which time Miss Elizabeth Jinks, Home Economics representative for Lawrence county will talk on "Color in the Home." Miss Jinks will also briefly cutline her program on Home Economics work,

County Agent McCulloch will also be present and give a talk along agricultural lines.

Every person living in the Liberty community who is interested in Home Economics and Agricultural work is invited to attend this meeting.

Court Asked To Fix Swain's Time Limit

But Judge Boote Of Yonkers Leaves Question To Mother And Daughter

NEW YORK, Mar. 31. — The question of what hour a girl should dismiss her sweetheart each night, or rather morning, was put up to Judge Charles W. Boote in Yonkers City Court yesterday by Miss Alice Sabol, seventeen, of Seymour street, Yonkers, and her mother, Mrs. Pauline Skidgel.

Mother and daughter differed on the question as to whether it was proper for a girl to entertain her sweetheart until 3 o'clock in the morning. Judge Boote, who probably realizes just how long it takes for sweethearts to say goodnight, adjusted the matter amicably without fixing the hours.

Miss Sabol appeared in court voluntarily when her mother, who has twice married, threatened to get a summons for her. Mrs. Skidgel had insisted that Alice dismiss her sweetheart no later than 1 a. m., and that the courting be done in the parlor, instead of the hallway, under her personal supervision. Alice agreed to return home and make the best of it.

Marine Officers Are Well Pleased With China Assignment

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 31.—Waste no sympathy on the naval and marine corps officers who are being rushed to China.

Those boys have pulled every string they knew of to get their present assignment. Everybody envies 'em.

The poor guys who have to stick here in Washington or are tied up on duty in Occidental waters are the ones to pity.

The gob doesn't care so much what ocean he's required to navigate. It doesn't matter so much to the enlisted leatherneck what strand he's detailed to land on.

It's all more or less in the day's work, the way they look at it, though they do have their preferences as to where they get their shore leave.

But, to a junior officer, a port like Shanghai's heavenly.

An officer, with his ship, off Shanghai, say or Tientsin, or Hankow, is due to stay for quite awhile—a mater of months, or maybe a year or two.

He isn't kept on the move, as he is elsewhere, when at sea. Most of the time his craft's at anchor. He has a headquarters.

He can bring his family out from the "states." It comes economically, on a transport. It gets "rates" at all the best hotels. It lives in the style of a magnate's household, on a very modestly-paid junior officer's salary.

Of course an admiral's a "big bug" anywhere. So's a general of marines.

But when you get below these ranks, a naval or marine corps officer in such a place, for example, as Washington, is no particular notability.

He's all right and perfectly respectable, but there are too many more of his own degree all about to let him stand out. Besides, unless he has means of his own, his income's too small to permit him to figure in "sassiety."

There's an "army and navy set" in the capital, to be sure, but it's overshadowed by other official "sets," simply because they have the spondulix to do it.

Now in Shanghai, to cite the most important Occidental center on the China coast, the international "navy set" is top o' the heap.

It hasn't the money there, either, that a good many others have, but what it's got does go farther.

Moreover, it has the other folks buffaloed.

For this it has, mainly, the English navy bunch to thank.

Shanghai's permanent foreign population mind, isn't a bunch of aristocrats. It's a bunch of "trades."

This idea—that the navy folks are a higher order of creation and that the "traders," regardless of the size of their bankrolls, don't amount to anything socially—has been so thoroughly ground in, that it "goes," so far as Shanghai's concerned.

It makes Shanghai a lovely place for the navy crowd.

Even a junior lieutenant's an object of reverence, a captain's a grand duke and an admiral's a demi-god.

Jammed full of refugees as it is now, with a 10 o'clock curfew in effect, the night clubs closed, anxious as to the future and maybe short of fresh eatables and drinkables already, Shanghai probably isn't as pleasant a place for a prolonged sojourn today as it used to be.

All the same, the navy or marine corps man who ever spent any time there is willing to give it another trial for a spell, revolution or no revolution.

Nurse Dying In Hospital After Attack By Fiend

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, O., March 31.—An unidentified woman about 25 years of age, is dying in Mt. Sinai hospital, following a fiendish attack here early today by an "iron pipe clubber." The only clue to the victim's identity is the fact that she wore a white uniform of a nurse.

Her skull was fractured by blows from the piece of pipe which was found near the scene of the attack.

Police are searching for her assailant.

West Side League To Meet Tonight

A meeting of the West Side Civic League will be held this evening at the West Side public school. A number of matters of interest to West Side residents will be up for consideration. The meeting is called for 8 o'clock.

Kellogg Denies He Will Retire

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 31. — A report published in a morning newspaper that Secretary of State Kellogg is planning to take a long vacation in California, to be followed by his resignation from the cabinet, was denied today by Kellogg.

The secretary said he was not going to California, but about the ever-recurring report of his early retirement from the cabinet because of ill health he was not so emphatic, although he has consistently denied previous reports of this sort.

Despite the denials, however, it would not surprise Kellogg's colleagues here if he retires by July 1.

Robbery Suspect Severely Wounded By Police Officer

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Mar. 31. — A man giving the name of Frank H. Pazley, Brooklyn, N. Y., is in a critical condition today in the Mercy hospital here, shot twice through the thigh by Policeman Marton Tollett during a chase last night. He has been placed under arrest charged with holdup and robbery at the point of a gun.

Pazley was identified by two victims as the man who held them up shortly before the shooting. He had $3,000 worth of jewelry, several watches and small sums of money alleged to have been taken in the two holdups, in his pockets when he was shot down, police said.

Improve your motor's performance in the 5 definite ways essential to speed, ease and safety in today's tangled traffic

High-tension traffic demands this GASOLINE

EVERY time you drive your car you have approximately 20,999,999 competitors. For there are 21,000,000 cars operated in this country today and, although they're never all on the same road you are—it often seems that way when you're in a hurry.

And it is those millions of cars that have set up the biggest problem in modern motoring—traffic. How to get where you're going quickly, easily, safely.

To help you solve that problem a new gasoline was created, Traffic Tydol. Impartial tests prove that it surpasses other gasolines in 5 respects essential to present-day driving.

Already it has been adopted by the leading motor-transportation companies in the country, operating thousands of cars, millions of miles a year in gruelling traffic. And the hundreds of thousands of car-owners who now use the new Traffic Tydol endorse it as no other gasoline has ever been endorsed.

Stop today at a black and orange Tydol pump. Fill up with Traffic Tydol. Let this new gasoline improve your motor in the 5 essentials needed for modern motoring.

PROOF

The New TRAFFIC-TYDOL means

1. FASTER STARTING
2. QUICKER PICK-UP
3. MORE POWER
4. LESS GEAR-SHIFTING
5. REDUCED KNOCKING

Above facts proved in impartial, stop-watch tests. New Traffic-Tydol competed with seven other gasolines. Tests made by 16 professional demonstrators, in following cars, picked at random:

Ford, Whippet, Chevrolet, Dodge Chrysler, Star, "6", Pontiac, Nash, Hupomobile "6", Reo, Locomobile "8", Willys-Knight, Franklin, Chandler, Buick, Studebaker.

New Traffic-Tydol earned 66 out of possible 70 first places in tests made on 5 separate points. Unanimous choice of all 16 demonstrators as best all around gasoline.

Signed, photostatic records of above tests on file in offices of Tide Water Oil Sales Corporation, 11 Broadway, New York City.

THE SEALED PUMP PROTECTS YOU

The Sealed pump, with which Tide Water defeated gasoline substitution a year and a half ago, is still rigidly in force. Nothing but Tydol can go into a Tydol dealer's tank. Nothing but Tydol can come from a Tydol pump.

The new TRAFFIC TYDOL ECONOMY GASOLINE

SEALED BY TIDE WATER OIL SALES CORP. TYDOL TAMPERING FORBIDDEN

This seal protects you from substitution. It is affixed to the intake pipe of every Tydol tank.

IN washing machine or tub, use the soap that soaks out dirt! It saves hours of work, and gets clothes so much whiter.

The makers of 30 leading washers urge the use of Rinso for safety, and for a brighter wash.

Millions use Rinso for tub washing because it gets clothes whiter without a washboard, even without boiling.

This amazing soap gives thick suds in hard water or soft. It's all you need. So economical! It saves your hands, too.

If you want to see a whiter wash, just try Rinso next Monday morning.

School Ask Advice Of Business Men

Circular letters signed by the head of the commerce department and principal of the senior high school and by the superintendent of schools have been sent out to all employers and prospective employers of graduates of the New Castle high school.

The purpose of these letters is to solicit co-operation of the business people of the community in determining what type of instruction will function most in the lives of young men and women who take up a business career.

Answers to these circulars will be most helpful in assisting the teachers and guidance consulor in arranging the course of study for the pupils of the school.

Tolerance Toward Chinese Adopted By U. S. As Policy

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—Washington seems to me to have a clearer, more sympathetic understanding of the Chinese than any other government has.

It seems to me also to have a better understanding of them than it has of any other nationality.

Things were pretty tense here following native Shanghai's capture by the Cantonese, with trouble popping all along the "foreign city" limits, still worse trouble in Nanking and the entire Yangtse valley by the ears.

Officialdom would have had some excuse if it had lost its head.

Yet what you heard right along was "We must make all due allowances for the Chinese."

Other Occidental capitals haven't been so forebaring.

This basic thought has been that the Chinese disturbance was an infernal nuisance to them, and that the best scheme for the "powers" was to club together and go over and lick both sides, in order to stop it.

That's what they undoubtedly would have done, only they needed America's help and they couldn't get it.

Washington's reasoning, in substance, has been like this:

China's engaged in a terrific civil struggle. Innocent bystanders on the sidelines of such a fight are liable to be sideswiped by it. They ought, by good rights, to get out of the way.

Of course even an imprudent innocent bystander can't be left to his fate. His country's got to rescue him, even at the cost of chipping, momentarily, into the scrap.

But so far as the bulk of the Chinese are concerned, in their nationalistic aspirations, the United States wishes 'em luck.

Rudyard Kipling, with his "East is East and West is West, and never the twain shall meet," undertook to give the impression that Oriental and Occidental mental processes are absolutely irreconcilable.

This is all bunk.

What Rudyard, an Occidental imperialist to the backbone, never could understand was why the east objects to being gobbled up by the west.

It isn't so much of a mystery to Washington.

Washington diplomacy shouldn't feel too cocky, nevertheless, over its superiority to other Occidental diplomacy in the matter of its understanding of the Chinese.

It isn't so tolerant, for instance, toward Latin American disturbances as it is toward Chinese disturbances.

A little of our eastern hemispherical psychology, applied in the western hemisphere, would make us more friends in the latter.

Washington officials are free to admit that their experience of today can't compare with what their predecessors must have gone through 27 years ago, when the Boxers were rampant.

That was an out-and-out anti-foreign affair. The leaders were wild-eyed fanatics, with the murder of white men and women in their hearts. While they may have known no better, it made them none the less unpleasant cutomers to deal with.

The commanders in the present war are enlightened men, who are given full credit for doing their best to prevent anti-foreign excesses.

In the early 1900's, too, with the telegraph down, nobody knew for weeks what was happening. It's of record that the suspense was killing. Now communication can't be seriously interrupted, thanks to the radio.

MANY STUDENTS USE TYPEWRITER

Taking Census Of Activities Of Students At North Street Junior High

Among the interesting facts found in a census of what knowledge the ninth grade students of the North street junior high school have of commercial occupations is the fact that of the 166 pupils interrogated 149 of them have used a typewriter.

A census of the ninth grade of the school is being made by E. O. Delancy, guidance counsellor, as to their knowledge of the different occupations of life. These questionnaires are made preparatory to bringing before the classes the advantages of the different walks of life. Recently a census was made of the agricultural knowledge.

Other interesting results in the questionnaire include the fact that 93 per cent of the pupils have, or have had, bank accounts; 62 out of 166 have written checks while 145 have cashed checks; 107 have have worked in a store while 39 have worked in an office; 53 boys out of a total of 78 have sold newspapers or magazines regularly; 34 out of 78 boys have made something and sold it while 50 of 88 girls have thus earned money; 143 of the pupils have earned money.

In regard to the building trades it was found that 21 or 13 per cent have fathers connected with building trades; 151 have visited a building under construction; 38, or 23 per cent have read trade journals; 101, or 69 per cent have examined a blueprint and 119, or 75 per cent have built something.

Child-birth

THOUSANDS of mothers for over three generations have praised Mother's Friend for relieving them of unnecessary pains during expectancy. "Everyone was surprised how well I got along," writes Mrs. Alfred E. Ammon, Muncie, Ind. "My pains disappeared after using Mother's Friend and I was sick only an hour and a half at baby's birth."

Mother's Friend is the formula of an eminent physician. It is made from a combination of highly refined oils and other wonderful ingredients and is for outward application. Mother's Friend aids the skin and museles to expand more easily during the constant readjustment of expectancy, month after month, right up to childbirth.

Mother! Insist on Mother's Friend—the same as used by our mothers and grandmothers—don't wait—start using tonight—and meanwhile write Bradfield Regulator Co., Dept. 33, Atlanta, Ga., for free valuable booklet "Motherhood and the Coming Baby" (sent in plain envelope). It tells how Mother's Friend can help you during expectancy and at childbirth. This booklet also tells you many other things you want to know. "Mother's Friend" is sold by all druggists—everywhere.

Sapiro Reveals Working Plans

All Farmers Of World Into Single Selling Groups Ultimate Aim

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

FEDERAL BUILDING, DETROIT, March 31.—The ultimate goal of Aaron Sapiro, so-called co-operative king, was the organization of all the farmers of the world into single selling groups to control the prices of each basic farm product, he told the jury today in the million-dollar Ford-Sapiro libel suit.

Under a hammering cross-examination by Senator James A. Reed, Democrat, of Missouri, chief of Henry Ford's counsel, Sapiro said the first world farm co-operative was planned for wheat growers. It was apparent Sapiro thought Ford's attacks on him had destroyed the plan.

Cotton alone was excepted from the world plan, Sapiro said, because "it was not feasible". He hoped however, to get the producers of all other staple crops into world farm organizations.

Arrange County Health Program

Meeting To Co-ordinate Agencies In County Program Set For April 14

A Health program that will include all the health associations of the county as well as all welfare and related organizations is to be formed in a meeting to be held on Thursday, April 14, in the social room of the New Castle Y. W. C. A.

Miss Edith Stuckey who represents the Pennsylvania State Health Association has been working with several people for several days to make this meeting a success in its work of co-ordinating the health activities of the community.

Among the Lawrence County people who are co-operating with the State Health Department are Dr. H. C. Harper, County Medical Director, Miss Della Glenn, Executive Secretary of the Lawrence County Tuberculosis Society, Miss Ritchey of the Y. W. C. A., Miss Myra Ackerman and Miss Agnes McLaughlin, State Nurses, Miss Jane Ferguson, Industrial nurse at the Shenango Tin Mill and Miss Anna I. Gilliland of the Associated Charities.

It is expected that welfare organizations of New Castle industrial plants as well as health associations of nearby towns will join forces to consummate plans for the formation of the comprehensive County Health Program. The work is being carried on under the auspices of the Lawrence County Public Health Association.

BIG CIRCUS IN TOWN TOMORROW

Performances Friday And Saturday In The Local Y. M. C. A.

Hurrah for the circus! It comes tomorrow. Isn't that just great, boys and girls? Are you going over to see it come in?

Walter Kirker of the Y. M. C. A., the boss, who has arranged for the appearance of the Zingling family here, has not received word exactly when the train will be in. However, if unable to be at the station be sure to come to the show. Tell your mothers and daddies and all your grown-up relations to come Friday or Saturday evenings.

Come at 7:30 for the side-show. It's rich! The big parade of the Zingling family along with their pet tigers and lions begins at 8:15. That's a pageant in itself and worth walking five miles to see.

The matinee Saturday afternoon is especially for children. Come early for the side-show. You probably know that Mr. and Mrs. Zingling have a very large family; really it's an immense family for this day and age.

There are 11 older daughters in this family, and if you want to see a bit of Ziegfeld Follies right in your home town, plan to see these young flappers do some fancy stepping. Father and mother Zingling have not neglected the training of their younger children. There are, well really. I never succeeded in counting them, so numerous are these little spring-offs. This is the first and also the best circus of the year; be sure and come.

DEATH DEMANDED

New Yorkers, Interviewed At Random, Favor "Guilty" Verdict For Mrs. Ruth Snyder

By ALEXANDER C. HERMAN
Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News.

LONG ISLAND CITY, N. Y., Mar. 31.—If you were on their jury, how would you decide the fates of Mrs. Ruth Snyder and Henry Judd Gray, charged with murdering Mrs. Snyder's husband, Albert?

Would you, swayed by the oratory of persuasive lawyers, find any alleviating circumstances for the slaying?

Or could you see nothing but conviction—which means death by electrocution in this state?

Of a random group of 12 interviewed here, the consensus for a "guilty" verdict was overwhelming. A few wanted conviction under a life sentence—reasoning that a living death was worse punishment than that of the electric chair. Only one man saw any chance of lighter judgment—incarceration in an insane asylum—for he believed that none but the insane could have committed so dastardly a crime.

No Softness in Women.

Women were harder in their views than men.

The two panels of 200 talismen scheduled for call on April 11, when the case comes to trial, may have to be augmented, or even in New York, somewhat callous even to murders, opinions are very decided.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Ruth Snyder, wife of the dead art editor, is propaganding to counter-act the effects of an early confession, given out by police. She is granting interviews in her cell and making the same plea in all:

Mrs. Snyder's Plea.

"I ask the public—every mother, daughter, every wife—to withhold their judgment until they have heard all and I am sure they will find some sympathy, some understanding for me.'

She will go on the stand in her own defense and tell a story of a bored life, of restraint—not of excess; of faithfulness—not of connivance; of loving devotion—not of neglect; and she will try to pin the crime on her lover.

"Any consideration or affection or love that I've ever had for Gray has turned to hatred," she says.

Henry Judd Gray, who was a corset salesman, will, in turn, try to put all the onus on her.

Man Gets Sympathy.

Strangely, if there is any sympathy around, it goes to the man. For Gray was a man of impeccable character before this crime, a person of excellent standing in the highly respectable community of East Orange, N. J.

He will try to prove that he was just a simple "goat" of a cunning womans' connivance. And the man in the street—ever since Adam put the blame on Eve—says that a woman can twist a man around her finger—if she is strong and he is weak.

Gray was called a man of steel—when first arrested. Now he has dissolved into a weak wreck.

Mrs. Snyder was labeled "a woman of ice". But she, too, has been gradually melting away. Her ice seems, nevertheless, still stronger than Gray's steel.

Suicide seems a drastic measure, but maybe he was afraid to try running away from her.

Gust Of Wind Saved Many From Death In Ehrenfeld Disaster

Huge Ventilating Machines Carry "After-Damp" Gas From Workings

Tales Of Bravery And Pathos At Mine Mouth Following Terrific Blast

By S. I. NEIMAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

EHRENFELD, Pa., March 31.—A gust of wind, sweeping toward the mouth of mine No. 3 of the Pennsylvania Coal and Coke Company, saved scores of miners from a terrible death when an explosion rocked the mine workings here yesterday noon, it was revealed today.

Inspectors who went down into the mine where four men met instant death and four others were overcome by "after-damp", found that the huge ventilating machines in the mine drove the clouds of dust raised by 33 runaway coal cars toward the pit mouth, thus directed the force of the terrific explosion that followed away from the hundreds of miners at work further in the interior of the mines, officials said, and averted a tragedy of appalling proportions.

Pathetic Scenes

Tales of bravery, of pathos and of tragedy followed in the wake of the explosion as hundreds of miners and their families gathered at the pit mouth awaiting final word of the toll of dead.

The aged mother of William Connelly, motorman, whose crushed body was brought to the surface by rescue men, paced frantically up and down the muddy mine settlement street pleading for word of her son. A second son succumbed only two weeks ago to gas poisoning suffered in the World War, and neighbors feared to tell the aged woman that death had claimed her eldest.

Charles Stevenson, foreman, of Castle Shannon, was among the first in the interior of the mine to learn of the blast. So far were he and his 81 men from the scene of the explosion that they did not hear the blast. When word came to him that the dreaded after-damp might sweep through the workings he ordered his men to "knock off" work. Assembling the men in an orderly file, he led them out through an airshaft and hurried to the pit mouth to aid in the rescue work.

Veteran miners who were in the workings when word came of the blast commented today on the absence of panic when miners realized that some of their fellow workmen must have met death in the explosion. Almost without exception the men filed out of airshafts and entries without any demonstration of fear.

The mining camp itself was in striking contrast. As soon as the blast shook the mine scores of frantic women poured from the miners' houses and within 15 minutes after a thick curl of smoke rose from the pit mouth confirmed fears that coal dust had exploded, the surrounding hills were lined with miners' families.

Rumors Spread Fast

Wild rumors spread through the gathering crowds, some reports placing the casualty list as high as 500 men. These rumors gained credence because relatively few men made their way out of the pit mouth and all of the dead and those overcome were removed from the workings through this entry.

Miners who made their way to safety hurried to the nearest telephone and telegraph stations to send word to their relatives of their escapes. Among these was W. B. Caskey, who sent word to relatives at 267 Rayburn street, Pontiac, Mich., telling of his experience. Caskey was at work two miles from the scene of the blast and made his way out with scores of others through an airshaft.

Officials were quick to praise Robert Miller of Osceola Mills, Pa., for his bravery when word of the blast reached the section in which he was working. Miller stood aside as many of the men rushed for the airshaft stairs, and assured them that there was no danger of further casualties. His work served in a large measure to check a possible panic, it was said.

Posses Search For Bank Bandits In $6,500 Robbery

(International News Service)

HARRISON, Ark., March 31.—The three bandits who robbed the Newton county bank of $6,500, today had apparently made their escape from the net believed spread about them in the foothills near here by more than 100 possemen.

Authorities in St. Joe where the bandits are believed to have escaped, are organizing another posse.

Zelienople Man Shows Old Book

Clarence Ifft, a resident of Zelienople, brought to the News office today a book bound in sheep-skin covering that is at least 235 years old.

The book, believed to be a series of daily sermons, was printed in Berlin in January, 1692. The author of the book or the originator of the sermons was Philip Spenern.

Despite the fact that the book is two centuries old the printing is still discernible and can easily be read when transiated. The entire book is printed in the German language. The book is odd in shape and is about three inches square and six inches long.

The book is yellow with age and from handling. It has been in the Ifft family for about 20 years, having been secured at a sale of minister's goods. No doubt the book is of rare value.

Mr. Ifft also exhibited an American penny with the date 1796 barely distinguishable. Both articles are prized highly by the owner.

Delinquent Gas Tax Measure Is Amended Today

Selling And Soliciting Bill Is Approved In State Senate

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Pa., Mar. 31. — The administration bill to force the collection of delinquent gas taxes was amended today by the house so as to provide that liens be entered in the order filed. Originally the bill made gas tax liens first liens and later the entire section was stricken out. Today's amendment was a compromise.

The Leslie anti-branch bank bill, on second reading, was recommitted for a hearing.

Representative Sterling's bill requiring the licensing of all persons selling and soliciting subscriptions for magazines was passed finally. The measure provides that the superintendent of public instruction issue the licenses. The measure is directed primarily at certain so-called art periodicals.

Other bills passed finally today included a score of bills making appropriations to state owned and state aided institutions; the Wheeler bill providing a more equitable method of assessing capital stock taxes against corporations and limited partnerships; Buckman bill providing for certain payments to contractors performing any highway improvement in excess of ninety per cent of the contract price in advance of the completion of the work; Memolo bill granting state aid to school districts of the third and fourth class for the purpose of rebuilding destroyed school buildings; Holmes bill creating a commission to erect memorials to Governor Curtain and General Parke at Vicksburg, Mississippi.

The administration bill providing for the mandatory opening of ballot boxes was passed on first reading today. It will reach second reading Monday night and can be passed finally next Tuesday.

Erie Bill Passes State Legislature

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Pa., March 31.—A bill sponsored by Senator Miles B. Kitts of Erie, amending the Erie park and harbor commission act by authorizing the leasing of a tract of three acres for the erection of a yacht club building was passed finally in the house today. The bill having passed the senate now will go to Governor Fisher for consideration.

When You Catch Cold Rub On Musterole

Musterole is easy to apply and works right away. It may prevent a cold from turning into "flu" or pneumonia. It does all the good work of grandmother's mustard plaster.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made of oil of mustard and other home simples. It is recommended by many doctors and nurses. Try Musterole for sore throat, cold on the chest, rheumatism, lumbago, pleurisy, stiff neck, bronchitis, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pains and aches of the back and joints, sprains, sore muscle, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet—colds of all sorts.

To Mothers: Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

Senator's Daughter Rules Fete

Mrs. Kenneth N. Gilpin, daughter of United States Senator and Mrs. Lawrence D Tyson, of Tennessee, will be "Queen Shenandoah" of the fourth annual Shenandoah Apple Blossom Festival to be held at Winchester, Virginia, during the middle of April. Mrs. Gilpin is a resident of Clarke County, Virginia, and her selection has met with universal approval in the great apple districts of the Shenandoah, Cumberland and Potomac valleys.

ADVANTAGES OF CITY ARE SHOWN

Chamber Of Commerce Secretary Speaks At Legion Noon Hour Lunch

General advantages of the city of New Castle that are not ordinarily known was the topic of the address given by A. W. Chilton, secretary of the New Castle Chamber of Commerce at the American Legion luncheon held in the Legion home today.

Some of the things that Mr. Chilton mentioned were the schools of New Castle which were rated among the best in the state and in the country, the 57 churches in the city, and the industries of the city.

The population of New Castle has increased 10,000 since 1920 which means an increase of 22%, and Mr. Chilton said that was away above the average increase of most cities. He also stated statistics that showed that in the last few years business in the city has increased. This was especially shown in the amount of car loadings, postal receipts, etc.

Recently engineers representing a large firm of chain stores have selected New Castle as a place to locate. This in itself shows the faith that these firms have in New Castle and the prospects in the future for good business.

American Consulate At Chunking, China, Is Forced To Close

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, March 31.—The American consulate at Chunking, 1,200 miles up the Yangtse river from Shanghai, has been closed because of anti-foreign sentiment and Consul Walter A. Adams has taken up his headquarters aboard a gunboat in the river, the state department was advised today in a message from the American legation at Pekin.

Chunking is far removed from southern influence and marks a rapid spread of anti-foreign sentiment.

No Court Probe Of Ford Accident

Court In Charge Of Libel Suit Issues Denial Of Any Investigation

(International News Service)
DETROIT, March 31.—Taking offical cognizance of the reported attempt to assassinate Henry Ford Federal Judge Fred M. Raymond presiding over the million dollar Ford-Sapiro libel suit today issued a formal denial from the bench of reports that he was investigating the motor crash in which Ford was injured.

Judge Raymond instructed the jury to disregard all newspaper articles which attempted to link the reported attack on Ford to the libel suit. The court denounced as "grossly improper" one article which declared an agent of the court was investigating the accident.

Appropriation Bill Passed By House

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Pa., March 31.—The House passed finally today the general appropriation bill for the general expenses of the state government for the next two years.

The measure carries appropriations amounting to $103,000,000 and was sponsored by Representative McBride, Allegheny, chairman of the House appropriations committee.

Before it passes the Senate finally, it is understood the bill will be given several amendments which will increase the total figure.

Arrest Youths On Theft Suspicion

Three youths ranging in age from 17 to 19 years, are being held at the police station on suspicion of having been implicated in nuemerous cases of petty larceny such as stealing motometers, etc., from parked automobiles in this city. They were rounded up through the efforts of Officers Jack Young, Thomas Lynch and C. C. Horner. They gave the names of Lee Stewart, Edward Gardner and Henry Schuffert.

GETTYSBURG, Pa., March 31.—Although not fully completed, the Eddie Plank memorial gymnasium at Gettysburg college will be formally opened on April 9. The attraction at this time will be two plays presented by the Owl and Nightingale Dramatic club of the college in the auditorium of the building. "The Doll's House" and the one-act play "High Yaller", written by Dayton M. Kohler of Wormleysburg, a student of the institution, which was the prize winn[illegible]es written at the college this year.

Try Marshroot For Sleepless Nights

When your bladder is irritated and you have to jump out of bed two or three times every night it breaks your rest and you feel tired and weary during the day.

Time then to think of Marshroot because this good old medicine is guaranteed to help this condition or money back—and no time is wasted doing it either.

If you want to sleep sound at night, keep free from bladder weakness and gain in energy, get a bottle of Marshroot. It isn't expensive and is guaranteed. Eckerd's sells lots of it

Road Building Far Behind the Automobile

Millions now recognize the automobile as a necessity. It is no longer a luxury for the few. Sixty per cent of its use is for business.

Yet although the mileage of Concrete Roads and Streets has been steadily increasing, our highway system today lags far behind the automobile.

Such a condition not only seriously handicaps the progress of the automobile as a comfortable, profitable means of transportation, but also holds back commercial, industrial and agricultural advancement in practically every section of the country. It is costing taxpayers millions of dollars annually.

Highway building should be continued and enlarged upon.

Your highway authorities are ready to carry on their share of this great public work. But they must have your support. Tell them you are ready to invest in more and wider Concrete Highways now.

Bandit Is Caught Within Circle Of 300 Armed Men

Surrounded In Farm Ditch And Gives Up Without Fight

SHARON, Pa., Mar. 31.—Surrounded by a posse of 300 armed men, C. F. Steinmetz, 25, of New York city, surrendered, yesterday afternoon and confessed robbing the Cortland Savings Bank, Cortland, O., Tuesday and March 10. In the pockets of his clothes was found $1,356, stolen from the bank, Tuesday.

Steinmetz was captured in a ditch onthe Bunting farm, southwest of Cortland after eluding the man hunters since Tuesday afternoon. Late yesterday he exchanged shots with several men who discovered his hiding place in the woods, and in the evening was fired upon by Sheriff John Smith of Trumbull county, when he was caught swimming Mosquito creek.

He spent the night in an abandoned barn on the Bunting farm, but was seen leaving the barn at daybreak, today. Later in the morning he visited a farmhouse, and ordered the owner to drive him away in his car. He was frightened away however, by the appearance of a woman at the door.

When captured, Steinmetz had a revolver in his pocket but made no effort to use it.

Christopher Gets Honor At State

Announcement was made yesterday by the editor of the La Vie, the Penn State year book, that Charles F. Christopher of New Castle was chosen as Historian for the class of 1930. There was a large number of candidates for the office but the local boy's history was chosen for its excellent merits. The Historian is one of the five whose pictures are placed on the page "Class Officers of 1930."

C. F. Christopher, whose local home is at 924 East Washington street, is also a reporter for the college paper, the COLLEGIAN of Pennsylvania State College.

BESSEMER NEWS

(Special To The News)

BESSEMER, March 31. — Although basketball season is ended, Bessemer High school can still find something to keep its valuable time occupied. For instance, the Juniors and Seniors are on the "jump" planning for a good time Friday evening.

Junior-Senior Banquet

The most interesting social event of the year will be the Junior-Senior banquet, given Friday evening in honor of the departing Seniors.

This tradition has been followed since the first graduating class in 1920.

There will be about 80 guests. Among these will be the high school faculty and their friends. Mr. Winters, assistant principal, will act as toastmaster. Entertainment will be furnished by the Juniors.

A delicious menu will be prepared by the domestic science girls and various members of the Freshman and Sophomore classes will serve.

Chapel

Miss Hamilton had charge of a very interesting chapel program given Thursday, March 24. Many unusual acts were displayed before the school. The program was mainly a costume display. Musical numbers and readings were given. The Bessemer high school orchestra, as usual, furnished the music for the occasion.

The next chapel program will be supervised by Miss Keys and will be given by the Senior class as a whole. This is unique in fact that it is but the second class to present a program with the whole class participating.

Football Sweaters

The Senior boys of the Bessemer high who have played on the football team for one season or more have received something more substantial for their work than mere praise. For their good work during the four years of high school they have received scarlet sweaters. A mammoth black B graces the front of this sweater, and upon the sleeve are service stripes, one for each season of hard work upon the field.

Operetta

Work has already been begun on the high school operetta, "Bits of Blarney", which will soon be presented. The parts have been assigned. The operetta is a humorous Irish love epic and has such a twang of blarney pervading it that it promises to surpass all the preceding performances. The work is sponsored and directed by Joseph Martin, music instructor of the Bessemer schools.

The Perfect Way to Wash Woolens

Make Changes In Coach Schedule

Interurban Coach Lines Schedule Changes Occur Sunday

A change in schedule in the operation of the interurban coaches which make important improvements in the service for the people of New Castle and New Wilmington, has been announced by the P-O Coach Lines to take effect on Sunday.

Under the new schedule convenient connections will be made at Youngstown, for both eastbound and westbound passengers, with the coaches for Warren and Cleveland. At the same time equally convenient connections will be made at New Castle by the southbound coaches with the steam railroad trains for Pittsburgh.

Under the new schedule the first coach will leave New Castle for Youngstown at 7:15 a. m. with other coaches at 8:15 a. m. and then every two hours at 15 minutes after the even hours till the last coach leaves at 6:15 p. m.

For New Wilmington and Sharon the first coach will leave at 5:45 a. m., with other coaches every two hours thereafter till the last through coach leaves at 5:45 p. m. Additional coaches to New Wilmington only leave at 8:15 p. m. and 10:45 p. m.

MOTORIST ESCAPES DEATH

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Mar. 31. — M. Schusterman of Zanesville and party narrowly escaped death when their car crashed through the railing of the Market street viaduct, tearing away 70 feet of the railing and balanced on the edge. Had it gone several inches further, it would have toppled 200 feet below to the Mahoning river.

PYTHIANS PLAN NEW BUILDING

Will Erect New Structure Here For Lodge And Club Rooms

The Knights of Pythias lodges of New Castle are contemplating the building of a new home and club rooms. The building fund committee is now working hard to accomplish that end through the staging of an In-Door Circus at the Gardens April 7 to 18, in which will be presented 12 professional circus acts, of a high class nature, in fact most of the acts are those which travel during the summer months with the larger out-door circuses, and some of the acts are well known to the show going public.

A site for the new home has not been chosen as yet, but several locations are in view. According to the committee in charge, the new building will be a very beautiful structure, and a credit to New Castle, as the plans call for a two or three story building with lodge rooms and dance hall on top floor with the lower floors devoted to club features.

The several committees working on the various plans report that the advance ticket sale of the circus tickets is going big, as well as the popularity contest which the Knights of Pythias are conducting in connection with the show in which three young ladies of New Castle will be presented with three beautiful diamond rings, the winners being judged by the number of votes they receive, and prizes awarded accordingly.

The Gardens on Neshannock avenue, will be transformed into a real circus arena with the funny clowns, dare-devil acrobats performing feats in Mid-Air and on a mammoth stage, and other circus features being presented each night, and as an added feature Eddie Brubakers singing orchestra will furnish the music for the free dancing which goes on after the circus performance is over.

The K. of P. expects to raise a nice sum through this event, as well as several other ventures which the committees have planned to stage during the summer months, with the Pythian Sisters co-operating in many of the projects.

Poorfarm Inmate Is Heir To Fortune

Legacy From Rich Sister's Estate Goes To Man Who Long Had Been Destitute

AUBURN, Me., March 31.—Auburn's famous "wealthy pauper," John Murray, who has been at the City Farm since July, 1925, expects to go to Massachusetts to claim a fortune of a wealthy sister.

Murray, who is about seventy, was notified sometime ago that he had money. The amount is not known here but it was left as a trust fund and the income will keep him in comfort for the remainder of his days. Incidently it will mean that the city of Auburn will be reimbursed for at least $240 for lodging at the rate of $15 a week at the City Farm from Nov. 16 last when the sister died.

Murray was destitute and apparently without anyone to help him when he was first taken to the farm, two years ago and the notification from Massachusetts that he had fallen heir to a fortune was a surprise to the authorities but did not greatly impress him.

A sister, Mrs. Lizzie Furber of Melrose, Mass., has been carrying on a correspondence with the Auburn overseers of the poor regarding her brother and she will come here to take him home.

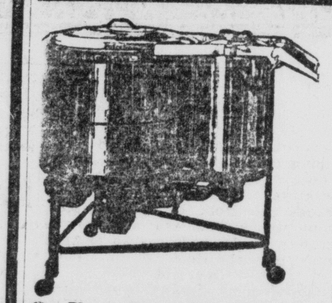

SMASH HURTS BOYS RIDING FROM SCHOOL

GREENSBURG, Pa., March 31.—John Woodward 18 of Radebaugh and John Cunkleman 18 of Jeannette seniors in the Greensburg high school escaped death here last evening on their way home from school when their machine was struck by another car in Main street.

The automobile occupied by Woodward and Cunkleman driven by the latter was overturned and crushed against a machine parked of Main street. Both boys were picked up unconscious and taken to the Westmoreland hospital. Woodward is seriously injured while Cunkleman escaped with lacerations and bruises.

Pet Goose Flying Near Master's Car Struck and Killed

CHARLOTTE, N. C., March 31.—Jim Clarke, a wild goose named for a Baptist preacher, is dead, having made the mistake yesterday of colliding in full flight with an automobile. W. L. Smith, a farmer who brought the goose down with a broken wing two years ago and made a pet of it, solaced himself by making a meal of the corpse.

This revealed that Jim had been misnamed and long misunderstood. The bird would soon have laid an egg.

Smith easily domesticated the wounded bird and it had long been a neighborhood pet. It followed the farmer around, answered his call and was in the habit of flying over the family car when Smith drove. It was this trick that cost Jim's life. Hurtling around a sharp curve, flying low, the bird crashed through the windshield of a laundry truck, stunning the drive and breaking its own neck. It was said that Jim could distinguish the sound of the motor of Smith's car from any other.

Last summer a flock of wild geese flew over the Smith home, spotted Jim in the barnyard and honked to the bird invitingly, Jim answered, but refused to join them. Several months ago a goose was enticed to the yard by Jim. The trustful stranger had its wings clipped, was easily driven into a pen, and is now being trained as Jim's successor in the family affections.

Rev. McCamic At Rescue Mission

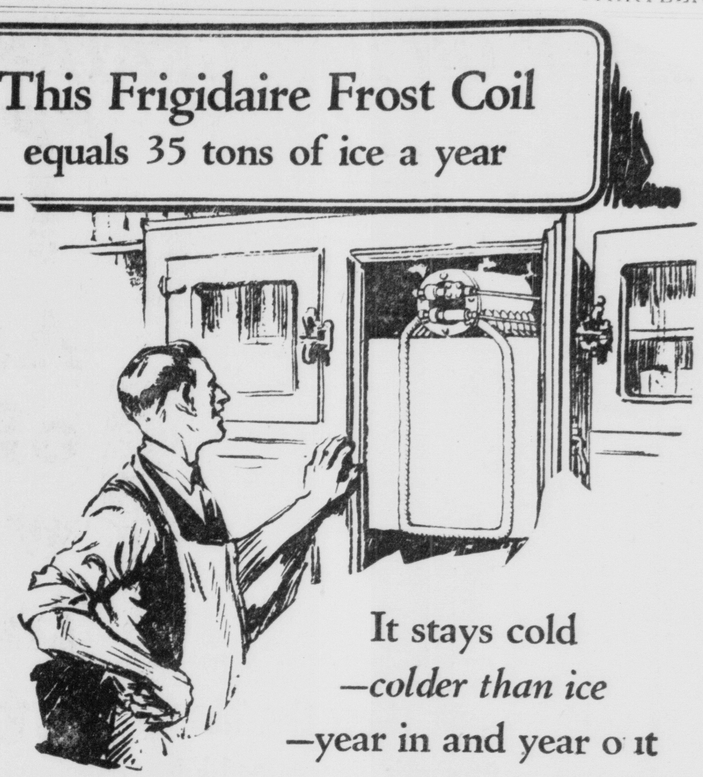

Fine spiritual services have been held with the Rev. Frank McCamic of Farmington, W. Va., who has brought the gospel messages for the last few evenings at the city mission. Rev. McCamic will preach tonight and Friday evening.

Many have enjoyed the gospel messages, which have been marked with success and several have taken their stand for Christ. The special music which has been rendered each evening by local talent has been greatly appreciated. The mission is very grateful for the service of Rev. McCamic, who has preached each evening, while being in the city, visiting his brother, L. H. McCamic.

This Frigidaire Frost Coil equals 35 tons of ice a year

It stays cold
—colder than ice
—year in and year out

MODERN meat merchants, grocers, druggists, florists, proprietors of delicatessen shops, hotel and restaurant owners need no longer have a refrigeration problem. With the installation of Frigidaire, their refrigerator becomes cold and stays cold—colder than ice—year in, year out—without daily attention and at a cost less than ice.

Frigidaire increases net profits
Not only does Frigidaire provide better refrigeration at a lower cost but it eliminates avoidable spoilage—it enables the merchant to buy a wider selection of perishables, and to benefit by lower prices through quantity buying—it saves the time and labor of re-icing the refrigerator—it permits of tempting display of foods—it stimulates trade by establishing a reputation for better kept foods.

Deferred payment plan
Come in and discuss your refrigerating problems with us. Let us show you how the General Motors plan of deferred payments makes it easy for you to have Frigidaire installed in your refrigerating equipment now.

By GEORGE H. MANNING,
(Washington Correspondent Of The News)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 31. — The bitter conflict between the "pro-Nordic" immigration restrictionists and those who would "humanize and liberalize" the immigration laws, which raged without any decisive victories for either side during the sixty-ninth congress, is expected to reach its climax during the seventieth congress which meets in December.

The only immigration legislation enacted by the sixty-ninth congress was designed, not to change the present immigration quotas, but to maintain them. This legislation postponed for one year the operation of the "national origins" provision of the Immigration Act of 1924.

If this resolution for postponement had not passed, President Coolidge would have had to issue a proclamation on April 1 declaring that on July 1 the quotas would be changed in such a way as to reduce the Irish, German and Scandanavian quotas drastically, to increase the English quota enormously and the Russian and Italian quotas considerably, and to reduce or to increase the quotas of other countries less significantly.

Not To Go Into Effect

But both restrictionists and "humanizationists" have served notice that they do not intend for the "national origins" provision ever to go into effect. Representative Albert Johnson of Washington, chairman of the Committee on Immigration and Naturalization of the House of Representatives, and an irreconcilable restrictionist, has already introduced a bill which he expects to re-introduce and push in the seventieth congress, which convenes in December.

This bill provides for the repeal of the "national origins" provision, the creation of quotas for Mexico, Canada, the West Indies, and South American countries—hitherto unrestricted — and the gradual tightening of immigration restrictions with a view to an eventual elimination of all immigration.

Most of the restrictionists, who in 1924 thought the "national origins" plan would solve all their difficulties, are now opposed to it. It is easy to see why. The Germans' Scandanavians, and Irish are Nordics. Their quotas would be reduced so radically that they have made a stormy protest. The English are Nordics. Their quota would be increased.

Would Divide Nordics

Consequently, as Chairman Johnson admitted, the "national origins" law would serve only to "divide the Nordics, practically all of whom are restrictionists, and who," he significantly added, "should not be divided, for we need a solid front in order to combat the foes of restriction."

This means that, for political reasons, the restrictionists will give up their pet "national origins" idea, which would make about 75 per cent of the immigrants come from English stock, since some 50 per cent of the entire quota would come from Great Britain, and about another 25 per cent from unrestricted Canada.

The restrictionists would like most of our immigrants to be of English stock, but they do not want to force the German, Scandanavian, and Irish sections of the population to ally themselves with the forces seeking to "liberalize" the immigration laws.

The only efforts being made to increase immigration are those designed to reunite families now divided by the present quota laws. Such bills, many of which are introduced in every session of congress, provide for admitting, regardless of quota restrictions, the wives, husbands, and minor children of aliens who have taken out their first naturalization papers.

All these people—except husbands of native-born or naturalized American women—will be eventually admitted when the naturalization process of the husband or father is completed, except, of course, those children who attain their majority in a foreign land before their fathers complete their naturalization here. That is because the wives and children of American citizens can under the present laws be admitted outside the quota. Husbands of American women cannot be so admitted.

Some Less Conservative

Some of the "liberalizers", however, are less conservative in their requests for "humanizing" the immigration laws. They would admit brothers, sisters, fathers, and mothers.

Inasmuch as the Republicans, a majority of whom are restrictionists, voted in a year in which there were no elections to postpone for one year the operation of the "national origins" provision of the immigration law, they may be rather confidently expected to repeal it entirely next year, when a presidential election will be held—unless, of course, the further investigations of the special board of experts named to work out the quotas under the "national origins" provision finds in the meanwhile that their first conclusions were wrong, and that, after all, the Irish, Scandanavian, and German quotas would not be so alarmingly reduced.

"Under this bill we have two forms of additional restrictions; one by progressive reduction of the quotas, by cutting them down annually for the next five years, and the other by providing maximum quotas for any country. The countries which would be affected by application of the maximum limitation are Great Britain and Germany.

"Finally, it becomes more and more apparent that we must provide some plan for regulating immigration from contiguous territory—Canada and Mexico—and from the West Indies and South America."

Whether or not Representative Johnson's plans for further restriction will gain a majority in the next congress is problematical. The sentiment in congress is for restriction, but the sentiment in any pre-election congress is not to stir up any more trouble than is necessary. To disturb the minds of naturalized immigrants from Mexico, Canada, and South America by restricting immigration from these countries might be troublesome.

DR. W. B. CALDWELL AT THE AGE OF 83

Mother! It's Cruel to "Physic" Your Child

To Dr. W. B. Caldwell, of Monticello, Ill., a practicing physician for 47 years, it seemed cruel that so many constipated infants and children had to be kept constantly "stirred up" and half sick by taking cathartic pills, tablets, salts, calomel and nasty oils.

While he knew that constipation was the cause of nearly all children's little ills, he did not believe that a sickening "purge" or "physic" was necessary.

In Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin he discovered a laxative which helps to establish natural bowel "regularity" even if the child is chronically constipated. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin not only causes a gentle, easy bowel movement but, best of all, it never gripes, sickens or upsets the most delicate system. Besides, it is absolutely harmless, and so pleasant that even a cross, feverish, bilious, sick child gladly takes it.

Buy a large 60-cent bottle at any store that sells medicine or write "Syrup Pepsin", Monticello, Illinois, for a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE and just see for yourself.

Sewing School To Close Saturday

Winter's Course Will Be Completed With Special Meeting

The young ladies' sewing school which has been in session every Saturday afternoon since the early fall at the city mission will meet next Saturday, April 2, from 2 to 4 o'clock for the closing day, until the early fall.

The sewing school has met with marked success during the past and this winter has been exceptionally well attended. A fine interest has been taken by the young ladies in their work.

At next Saturday's gathering members of the school will receive their various garments which they have been working on during the past months. Mothers as well as any other women in the city who wish to attend, will be more than welcome next Saturday; and they will have the privilege of looking over the work that has been accomplished by these little girls.

There will be no sewing on Saturday. There will be a program of song, etc., and a general good time. Those who haven't missed a single Saturday during the fall and winter will receive a special award.

Mrs. Berquist wishes to thank all the teachers for their faithful assistance during this period. They are also invited to be present for the closing meeting. The sewing school work will be taken up again in the fall.

Columbus Pastor To Make Addresses At City Mission

The Rev. Thomas Neil of Columbus, O., a man who has had a wide experience in Christian work, having been actively engaged in Christian work for the past 15 years, will be in the city and will preach at the city mission, 17 S. Mercer street, Saturday and Sunday evenings. He will also speak to the Sunday school Sunday afternoon.

Rev. Neil is gifted with musical talent and is an exceptionally fine preacher, having taken his Bible course in Edenburgh, Scotland. He also attended the United Free Church college in Glasgow, Scotland, and was affiliated with the Coltridege Christian Union in Scotland. He has been in this country for quite a few years.

This opportunity of having the privilege of hearing Rev. Neil will be appreciated by many.

UNION HIGH TO PRESENT PLAY

Students In High Work Hard On Rehearsals For Comedy

After several weeks of extensive study on the play, "The Bashful Mr. Bobbs," Union High students feel confident of its success.

Thomas Grittie in his role of Obadiah Stump is a sure cure for the blues. This fresh, green, country product with his favorite expression, "Don't you jump on me," is sufficient to keep the audience in an uproar of laughter.

Lawrence Gibson takes the part of Marston Bobbs, who is anything but bashful. Maxine Anderson admirably plays the part of Celesta Vanderpool of the "Movies."

Walter Kielar who has already won favor in plays formerly presented by Union High takes the part of the Bashful Bobbs in the play.

Jessie Bonnett very creditably plays the role of Mrs. Wiggins. This part is especially humorous, but Jessie enters into the spirit of the comedy with plenty of zest.

Isabelle Wallace is Katherine Henderson, a young wife, who has her husband, Fred Henderson, or our smiling senior, Joe Wechner, completely under her thumb. Joe is a good example of the hen-pecked husband.

Erma Sontum, as Frances Whittaker plays the part of the athletic girl to perfection. Catherine Hannon, as Rosalie Otis, is a beautiful society girl, and plays the part quite charmingly.

Clela Fleming needs no introduction. You have met her in our plays for the last two years, but as Jean Graham she is unexcelled. Hazle Allen is the typical French Maid from Paris.

You must see her vamp Obahdiah, Thursday or Friday night of this week, and then you'll appreciate her skill.

NOT AN ACTIVE MEMBER

Bessie: "Is Mrs. Ballot an active member of our Woman's Democratic Club?

Clara: No; you never hear her mention dress or theatres or card parties—just talks politics all the time.

Eats Fruit and Meat, Nothing Bothers Him

"I could not eat anything without getting bloated up with gas and feeling feverish in my stomach. Since taking Adlerika, I eat what I want—fruit or meat or anything." —R. J. Carruthers.

Unlike most medicines, Adlerika acts upon BOTH upper and lower bowel, giving the intestines a REAL cleansing and bringing out old poisonous matter you never thought was in your system. Even if bowels move daily, you will be surprised how much more old matter Adlerika brings out which may have been causing all your trouble. In slight disorders, like occasional constipation, GAS bloating, indigestion or sick headache, ONE spoonful always brings relief.

Adlerika is a compound of the best saline intestinal cleanser with glycerine, buckthorn, cascara and other gas-expelling and detergent elements. It is excellent for Intestinal Stasis, a disease due to modern ways of living and which is often the true cause of sour stomach, gas bloating, nervous dyspepsia and restless sleep.

Doctors Praise Adlerika

Dr. H. L. Shoub, New York: "Adlerika, in addition to its intestinal cleansing, checks the growth of intestinal bacteria."

Dr. A. C. Curl: "I prescribe Adlerika with highly satisfactory results."

Dr. J. Weaver: "In my 50 years' practice, I have found nothing to excel Adlerika."

J. E. Puckett: "After using Adlerika, I feel better than for 20 years. Awful impurities were eliminated from my system."

Dr. F. M. P. (name withheld by request): "I use Adlerika in all bowel cases. Some require only one dose."

No matter what you have tried for your stomach and bowels, Adlerika will surprise you. At leading druggists. In New Castle at Love & Megown's.

State Legislators In Session Today To Clean Up Many Bills

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Pa., Mar. 31. — The senate met for its first Thursday session today. Almost one hundred bills, the largest majority of them appropriations are up for final consideration.

There is nothing on the entire calendar to cause delay or interfere with the quick work usually accorded all measures in Thursday session.

The gasoline tax bill now before the house cannot reach the senate before Tuesday. That will give the upper house an opportunity to get rid of several hundred bills meanwhile which must be hurried along if they are to get through at this session.

It is too late in the session for the senate to worry about measures which are yet to be introduced. There is no limit ever set on the time for the introduction of senate bills. When the end of the session is near it is an easy matter to keep in committee any bill which may cause too much discussion.

In the house the chief interest today will be the action taken on the administration's mandatory ballot box opening bill, which has passed the senate. The bill is on the second reading calendar having been reported out of committee and passed on first reading late yesterday.

Like the senate the house is holding its first Thursday session today.

LETTERS TO THE NEWS

Mar. 31, 1927.

New Castle, Pa.

Dear Sirs:

I noticed in your paper of last evening of a suggestion being made in council in regards to grading and improving Cascade street and the paper mill hill in order to bring traffic from the East Side down town.

The article did not state by whom this suggestion was made, whether by a member of council or a citizen, but no matter by whom it seems that if anyone would stop to think the matter over that they would seen how foolish it would be to take the people from the East Side out into the country two or three miles, along a route that I will wager the half of those people living up there could not find without a guide, then across one of the worst R. R. Crossings on the Penna Oil City branch, then down along through a narrow road without room to pass, and dark as it is possible to be at night, to get them down town, when by improving Cascade street to Croton avenue, which would be a mighty good improvement, you would have this street, Ray street, Crawford avenue, and walnut street, all connecting up with Croton avenue, a newly improved street and a direct line down town to the end of East North street on the Croton side, where at a small cost, compared with building a viaduct across at the paper mill and trying to make a safe road for travel out of the Narrows, a bridge could be built, and it would be much easier for strangers to find, and bring them to the same street. Again we must do something to relieve traffic in New Castle, and this bridge will do more in that direction than any other thing, cost compared, and what a help it would be for the stranger that starts to find somewhere to park when he wants to spend a few cents with the merchants, and finds that they are all crowded on Washington street with only one bridge at each end and no way to cross the Neshannock creek but one cement bridge.

We are talking all the time about more improved roads to bring the country people to New Castle to shop. The good roads are of no use if we don't have some place for those same people to park long enough to do a little shopping without being tagged or else have to walk half way to town after they do find a place to park. What we need and need badly is some free parking spaces down town for the country people, and arrest the first business man in the city that they find parking in it.

Now let's get behind the Council and help them to make some of these improvements and if the city is short of money, I believe the public spirited people would raise some money to help out with making New Castle a better place to shop in.

Respy,
WYATT R. CAMPBELL.

House Members Pass Three Gasoline Tax Bills On Second Reading Today

By ROBERT F. GORMAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Pa., March 31.—Three gasoline tax bills, sponsored by Representative Hess, Lancaster, and having the support of the administration, were passed on second reading in the House today.

The bills would provide a three-cents-a-gallon tax, two cents permanent and a one cent emergency tax, to expire June 1, 1929.

The heaviest calendar of the year, made up of 50 pages and carrying more than 300 bills, greeted the House members when they convened today in the first Thursday session. Most of the bills were on second reading and were advanced for final action next Monday night.

Tom Dickey Has Important Role In Senior Play

TOM DICKEY

There is some difference of opinion as to who rules the great American home. The young people may think they hold complete sway, but when dad takes a hand—well, then the rest sit up and listen. Dad took a hand in the Harper family when "charm" clashed with common sense. If you want to know the outcome, see the Senior play with Tom Dickey in the role of dad. Tom can be "all things to all men".

You may know Tom as one of the popular young men in high school, with an ingenious sense of humor, but the "Monitor" staff knows him as a poet. The faculty may think of him a coming legal light, but those who see him in "Charm" will prophecy a different career.

Tom, with Norman Cotton and other prominent members of the Senior class, will reveal the secrets of "Charm" in the Senior High school auditorium April 7 and 8.

Seven Cases For Board On Zoning

Appeals To Be Acted On At Meeting On Next Tuesday

The Board of Zoning Appeals will hear seven cases when it meets in the city council chamber Tuesday, April 5 at 3:30 o'clock. All the cases are appeals from the decision of the city engineer who refused building permits for the purpose asked on account of the fact that they were violations of the zoning regulations of the city.

Five of the seven cases are for permits to enclose front porches with glass. Another case, that of Abadalla Abraham of 410 East Long avenue is for permission to build a one-story brick addition to his frame building at the location mentioned. This is a secondary business district and the plan filed by the applicant does not comply with the front and side yard requirements of the zoning ordinance for that district.

Then there is the case of Henry H. Halley of 421 Park avenue, who asks for a permit to build a portcochere on the east side of a new home he is building at this address. His lot is 40 feet wide and the plan filed leaves only two feet of side yard outside the supports of the proposed portcochere which is a place to drive through or under a part of the building. The minimum side yard allowed in a residence district is four feet.

The persons asking for permission to enclose their porches in glass as as follows. W. F. Patterson, 313 Englewood avenue; F. R. Finch, 220 Fairmont avenue; Fred S. Byers, 411 Clenmore boulevard; Harry Wettich, 426 Winter avenue, and Oliver J. Fleeger, 612 Lutton street.

Police Surround Store On Report Burglar Inside

While two employes were engaged in some work at the Mather Brothers Company store shortly before ten o'clock last night, they heard the crashing of glass, the sound of steps on the floor above and the lifting of a window.

Thinking it might be a recurrence similar to that of several months ago, when some diamonds were taken, they rushed to the front door and called for help.

Officer William James heard their cries and notified the police station. In a few seconds the store had been covered on every side and a search of the place was made.

No person was found in the building, neither was there any evidence of any attempt to force an entrance.

Spanish Bull Fight To Feature Circus

Big Attraction Is Announced For New Castle Y. M. C. A. Circus

A Spanish bull fight is to be one of the stunts to be pulled off at the Zingling Family circus at the Y. M. C. A. gym on Friday and Saturday, April 1 and 2.

After much difficulty and danger a bull has been captured of a very ferocious nature. As the managers were able to secure only one bull it will be necessary to kill the same bull twice.

The bull fight will be staged by the Junior A class of the Y. M. They will also give a basketball game after the manner of slow motion pictures.

The senior high school class will demonstrate on the "buck." They have been practicing faithfully in order to show the people just how exercises can be accomplished upon this piece of gymnasium equipment.

The leaders corps of the Y. M. will give a demonstration of exercises on the side horse. They are very anxious to exhibit their skill.

A telegram has just been received from Cuto, the world famous clown, that he will personally appear at each of the exhibitions of the show. Bring the children to see his pranks.

Full House Greets Artists In Musical

Music Lovers Of City Revel In Clever And Harmonious Program

Woman's Club Members Gratified Over Success Of Their Big Venture

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa. Mar. 31—Music lovers of Ellwood City packed the auditorium of the Liberty theater last night to see the performance of "The Persian Garden" presented by the Woman's club of Ellwood City for the purpose of raising money for the building of a club house.

Prof. Charles French opened the program with a violin solo, "La Gatina" by Kreisler and rendered it with a masterly techique which delighted his hearers.

The contralto, Miss Lois Wiley unfortunately contracted an illness before the musical and could not be present but a very estimable musician was substituted in her place and the Song Cycle was presented without a hitch.

Several parties were present in the boxes and Ellwood turned out in its best bib and tucker to do honor to the spectacle, sponsored by the local club.

The balance of the program was rendered as had been announced and the harmonious completeness of the entire affair made the audience wish it were longer and held the attention of all for two hours.

Duet, "Mistress Mary," M. T. Salter—Elsie Matz Bauman, Lois Wylie.

Puck song, "Fairyland," Orlando Morgan—Doyle Bugher.

"Annie Laurie," Liza Lehmann—Elsie Matz Bauman.

Song Cycle.

"In a Persian Garden" Liza Lehmann.

Soprano, Elsie Matz Bauman.
Contralto, Miss Lois Wiley.
Tenor, Milton Tully.
Basso, Doyle Bugher.
Accompanist, Gertrude Mohr.

Tony Mazelli Dies As Result Of Crash

Coroner Caldwell To Hold Inquest In Death Of Accident Victim

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa. Mar. 31—Tony Mazelli, who was one of six occupants of a taxicab of the McGregor Taxicab company of New Castle when the taxi collided with a car reported owned by Harry Newton of the Ellwood City-New Castle road Monday night, died this morning as a result of injuries sustained in the crash.

The other occupants of the car were thrown out but Mazelli was the only one fatally injured having a fratured skull.

The deceased leaves his wife Flora and several children. His home is in West Virginia, he having been in Ellwood visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Raschelle and family of Line avenue.

The body will probably be shipped to West Virginia.

Chamber Board To Decide Several Important Matters

Community Chest Budget Will Be Presented At Friday Night's Meeting

ELLWOOD CITY, Mar. 31.—At the regular meeting of the board of directors of the local Chamber of Commerce which will take place Friday evening in the chamber quarters in the First National bank building, two important matters affecting the welfare of the citizens of Ellwood City, will be brought up.

First, the credit system, which received a favorable vote at the merchants' meeting Tuesday evening and was born out of the merchants' group meetings. The credit system will be a good business measure for Ellwood City and will be of unlimited value to the merchants. It remains for the board of directors to affix their seal of approval, to become an established institution here, backed by the Chamber of Commerce. In event of the rating system going through, a secretary for this work will be hired by the chamber in addition to the office force now being maintained.

The Community Chest yearly budget has been apportioned and will be presented for the approval of the board of directors Friday night. The needs of the hospital will be stressed in the budget this year, as the officials there are badly in need of a new wing.

Henry Peel Of Pittsburgh To Make Address At Anniversary Meeting

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Mar. 31—An important event in fraternal circles will be the anniversary meeting this evening of the Protestant Boys Loyal Orange lodge No. 136 which will take place in their lodge rooms in the First National Bank building.

The main feature of the evening's entertainment is the address by Henry Peel of Pittsburgh, State Chaplain of the lodge. He will speak on appropriate subjects, and will bring an interesting message to the local members.

The ladies Degree team of the Ladies Loyal Orange Lodge will put on a patriotic drill. This team of 24 women ranks as one of the best in the state, and will make an impressive picture.

Another feature of the program will be several selections by the Sphinx Quartet and music by the Knights of Pythias Orchestra. The balance of the program will be made up of: piano solo, Harry Atkinson; violin solo, Miss Atkinson; Mrs. Ethel Slade, contralto soloist of the Ladies Orange Lodge will contribute several numbers, accompanied at the piano by Miss Irene Main.

Short talks will be given by luminaries of the local lodge, and it is expected that Byron McCandless, just returned from a trip around the world, will tell some of his travel experiences. At the conclusion of the program a fine lunch will be served by the ladies.

All local members of the above lodges are invited to attend this meeting and to bring friends. Visitors are expected from New Castle, Beaver Falls, Youngstown and Pittsburgh.

PAUL BROWNE PATTERSON TO CONDUCT THE GREAT FESTIVAL CHORAL SOCIETY

PROF. PAUL BROWNE PATTERSON

Organization to be completed at Scottish Rite Cathedral next week.

All the music clubs, singing societies, choirs and all those who love to sing, who are not members of organized groups are invited to be present at the mass meeting next week, date to be announced in a later issue of the News.

Plans have been completed to put on festivals of music during the Spring and holiday season of each year of such magnitude that the organization shall be famed throughout the length and breadth of the land.

The cultural value to the men and women of this community, young and old, can scarcely be estimated.

The equipment at the disposal of the Choral Society (estimated to reach a membership of 500) includes a magnificent auditorium. A great organ and other valuable units.

The dream of the famous old Handel Oratorio Society has come true.

Pennsylvania has produced a number of musicians of note. "International Who's Who in Music," the leading biograpical dictionary, ranks Prof Patterson, as one of the leading musical personalities of the present day," he having reached distinction in several branches of the music profession, singer, pianist, organist composer and conductor. He is a graduate of the Oberlin College of Music, and later studied conducting with Rebicek in Berlin, Germany, one of the most famous of European conductors, Barth and Raif, leading pianists of Berlin, Delle Sedie in Paris, Randegger and Shakespeare in London, world famed professors of singing, were also his teachers.

Prof. Patterson is best known nationally thru his conducting and his pupils, three of whom reached grand opera. Many others are prominent in the musical world as concert singers and teachers.

Mr. Blaine L. Norris, Prominent Painting Contractor, Testifies

Declares Dreco Did So Much For Him He Has To Let Everyone Know About It

In a recent visit to see the Dreco man at Eckerd's Cut Rate Store, Mr. Blaino L. Norris, 106 Pine street, who is known all over town as New Castle's best painter and decorator and a man whose services are much sought after because of the high quality of his work, made the following statement about Dreco. He said:

"When I heard so many others endorsing Dreco I just couldn't keep still any longer but just had to come out and let everyone know how it helped me too.

"Before I began taking this grand remedy I was just completely rundown. I got up every morning feeling so tired and sluggish I was all in and my whole body ached. I'd get weak spells when I'd feel so dizzy I could hardly hold my feet and my stomach and bowels were so irregular I lost all appetite for food. I couldn't sleep at night, became nervous, lost weight and just felt that I'd have to give up.

"But Dreco quickly went to the root of my troubles and I was soon feeling in fine shape. Since completing the treatment I'm like a new man, have gained ten pounds in weight and feel 100% better in everyway. I'm no longer troubled with the dizzy spells, my stomach digests anything I eat without any distress afterward, my bowels are regular as the clock, my nerves have been steadied and I sleep like a log all night long. I don't think any suffering man or woman will go wrong by taking Dreco."

Mr. S. P. Thorp, the well-known Expert from the Dreco Laboratories now at Eckerd's Cut Rate Store, is telling scores of people every day how to take Dreco for best results. Go to see him. His advice is free.

SEEK INCREASE IN WAGE SCALE

Painters Also Asking For Five Day Week; Plasters Ask Increase

Scales of the painters and plasterers expire today and demands have been made by both building crafts for an increase in wages. A status quo exists in the matter, but hopes are entertained that an agreement will be reached in the next few days.

Scales of the rest of the building tradesmen expire July 1. As far as can be learned there is no present demand on the part of the other building trades workmen for an increase.

The painters, according to John S. Swan, are merely seeking to secure the same wages as are being paid their craft in other cities and towns in the district, namely $1.12 1-2 cents an hour, an increase of 12 1-2 cents an hour over the scale that expires today. According to Mr. Swan, the painters have not received any increase in two years. The proposed increase would give the painters $10 a day. There are also some working conditions in which changes are being sought, one of the principal ones being a five-day week work schedule.

According to Mr. Swan, one-third of the organized painters of the country are now working but five days a week. It is planned as a health measure, painting being an occupation that is considered hard on the health of the men employed in it.

The plasterers, as near as can be learned, are seeking an increase of approximately $1 a day. It is expected that conferences between the employers and employes of these types of building trade workmen will be held in the near future. Indications are, it is said, that settlements will be effected and work will go on as usual in a few days.

Cow Fools Flood, After Lively Time In Swollen River

MANPIN, Ore., Mar. 30. — The champion "homing bovine" of the world is being exhibited by a stockman in the Bake Oven district, near here. The cow's reputation arises from her return after a strenuous journey on the flood waters of Bake Oven creek during the recent storm.

The cow was ambling contentedly up the arroyo toward her stable when the angry flood came rushing down. The water caught her and carried her several miles down to the deep canyon of the Deschutes river. The current coming out of the little gulley was so great that it swept the animal across to the other side of the river, where she managed to clamber out on the bank.

Two days later, after she had been given up for lost, she walked into her home corral, looking somewhat worn but apparently glad to be back.

PETERS ADVENTURES IN ANIMAL LAND

BY Florence Smith Vincent

DESERTER AND DESERTED

Thumpety, thump, thump! Tum, tum, tum!

Old Hippo, whose heart was not nearly as stout as a heart ought to be in such a huge body, had up until this time behaved extremely well. The glowing eyes had set him to shivering, but had not moved his feet. He had stuck by his new, but already beloved friend, the boy.

But the noise, the queer, terrible noise! This was too much. Old Hippo simply could not stand it. Old Hippo threw back his head and snorted with fright. Then without a word of farewell to the boy he'd carried on his broad back away from danger straight into danger, Old Hippo made good his threat and started for the river at a pace that would have put to shame many a fleeter-footed creature.

"Come back, Hippo! Take me with you! Do not leave me here alone! I guess after all I'd rather take my chances with you in the water than stay all by myself on land!"

Petares started to stumble after Hippo, tripped over a stone and fell upon his knees.

LOUDER AND NEARER WAS THE NOISE GROWING

To give Old Hippo credit, he had quite forgotten the boy, very likely never heard his plea. At any rate, as Petares crouched there he heard Old Hippo dash into the river, heard him splashing in the water! Then no sound from the river at all, only silence!

Over in the direction of those glowing eyes the thumpety, thump, tum, tum! Petares' heart was beating so fast that just for a second he wondered if he could be wrong, that 'twas but his own heart he heard. But no, louder and nearer was the noise growing. Desperately Petares tried to gather up his courage.

"Huh! I'm acting like a chicken frightened by a hawk!" muttered the boy. "Skulking in the open like this isn't going to save me if there's a fierce beast on my trail. I can't see, but night prowlers can, and if I'm going to keep my skin whole I'd better find a tree to climb or at least a rock to hide behind. I am a human and humans can outwit even the cleverest wild beast, if they only do not seem fear run away with them. But how, in this blackness, shall I find a tree or a sheltering rock?"

Next: "Fear Drummed Out."

SEEK EIGHTH TEAM FOR TWILIGHT BALL LEAGUE

Six Franchises Are Presented

Lawrence Independents Request Held Over Until April 7

PENNANT WINNERS REMAIN IN LOOP

By ED. FRITZ

Franchises were granted to six teams by the board of directors, Twilight Baseball league, at a meeting held at the Sport Goods store, last night and an effort will be made to increase the roster to eight.

The teams that have had their franchises renewed follow: Hillsville, West Pittsburgh and the Italian Star Independents. Hillsville captured the 1926 pennant.

The directors voted to admit the Ryantown Independents, South Hills and the National Radiator Colored Stars. The request of the Lawrence Independents was held over until April 7.

It was indicated that providing another team can be secured for the league a franchise will be granted to the Lawrence Independents, but if not the roster will be confined to six teams.

The managers appointed a schedule committee and ordered the committee to prepare for a split season, which no doubt will be mapped out according to plans of the Lawrence County Baseball league.

The officers of the Lawrence County league who sponsored the younger circuit, were named to head the Twilight league but the commissioners will not be selected until April 7.

Rick-Overlands To Close Season With Game Tonight

The Rick-Overland basketball league, will close their floor season team, winners of the City Industrial tonight by meeting the fast Spaide Shirt team at Butler.

The Overlands following their brilliant victory over the Tin Mill for the City title, lost an important series to the Keystone Drillers of Beaver Falls. The game tonight at Butler will be the deciding one of a three game series. Each team has won one game this year. The game tonight should be a fast encounter according to the dope.

"Fiz" Frazier and Steve Volesko of the Tin Mill team will join the Overlands in their game tonight. The following are asked to report at the Rick-Overland company at 7 o'clock sharp: Captain Paul Cuba, "Bub" Jones, Nocera, Uhle, Hoyland, Volesko, Mariacher, Van-Fossan, Eardley, Manager Doerr and Coach Frazier. The trip to Butler will be made in machines donated by Joe Rick of the Rick-Overland company.

Chewton Baseball Team Has Meeting

Angelo Cook was elected captain of the team. Cook was one of the mainstays of the team in 1926 with a batting average of .333 in 22 games. He had two homers and ten doubles to his credit.

The Senecas will take the field with the following team this year: Cook, catcher; Powell, pitcher; Hergenrother, first; Mundo, second; Dombeck, short; Lepardo, third; Latiano, left field; Fantanne, centerfield, and F. Cook, right field. The reserves will be F. Lopatka, Maietta and J. Lopatka.

The Senecas won 22 out of 23 games played last year, the only defeat being at the hands of the Ellwood City Juniors. The team will be ready to book games after April 10.

Peerless Passers Ready For Series

The Peerless Five will clash with the fast-going Liberty tossers on the Lincoln-Garfield gym floor on Friday night in the first game of a three-game series to determine the junior championship of the city. The game is scheduled for 7:30 o'clock.

"Tony" Ostrosky, stellar guard of the New Castle High team, will handle the game in the capacity of referee. The Liberty boys are confident of taking the Peerless team into camp. A fast game is expected.

The following Peerless members are asked to report at the Independent Athletic Association clubrooms at 6:30 o'clock Friday night: Captain Benny Marino, Carmen Marino, Toby Fernati, Mat Honkonen, Guy Natale, Sebastian Gennock, Sam Tomasella and Mike Mash.

One White Sox Hurler Knows His Lyons

By NORMAN E. BROWN.

The only American league hurler to enter the no-hit class in 1926 and one of the comparatively small number of men to perform that feat in the history of the game is ready to do his stuff again for the Chicago White Sox.

That man is Ted Lyons.

Facing the Boston Red Sox August 21 last year Lyons let the opposition down without a bingle. Two men reached first to mar an otherwise perfect game. When the curtain was rung down on baseball last fall the feat of Lyons and no-hit games by Petty of the Dodgers and Blake of the Cubs in the National elague had raised the total number of such games hurled in 5 years of baseball to just 75.

Ted joined the White Sox in mid-season 1923. He's a June bride in baseball, so to speak, going direct from the graduation platform at Baylor university to the Sox park.

He won two games while cutting his eye teeth that season and lost one. The next year he won 12 and lost 11. Two years ago he reached cut and won 21 while losing only 11. Last season he won 18 and lost 16.

Golf Alphabet—A

By Feg Murray

Copyright, 1927, by Metropolitan Newspaper Service

A golf Alphabet is hereby launched upon the water hazards of an eagerly waiting public. Read, mark and inwardly digest and you'll be surprised, as I was, how many prominent link stars there are and have been whose last names begin with the first letter of the alphabet.

We all know about Tommy Armour whose name has appeared up near the top in so many tournaments this past winter and John G. Anderson who when he isn't running the Millrose games in New York city has time to drop over to France and bring back the amateur championship of that country but how many others could you name? Laurie Ayton and his brother Alex are quite well known as pros and tournament players while Ellsworth Augustus is a prominent amateur of Cleveland and "Scotty" Armstrong the same in Los Angeles.

Let us delve into the record books and find A's of bygone days who have achieved fame by keeping to the straight and narrow path from tree to green. Back in 1897 Willie Anderson of Watch Hill, R. I., was runner-up in the United States open championship. To show that he was no flash in the pan Willie won the tournament in 1901 after a play off with Aleck Smith and then won it unchallenged in 1903, 1904 and 1905. One reason Anderson didn't win in 1902 was that another "A" Lawrence Auchterlonie of the Glen View club, captured the honors,.

Auchterlonie like Anderson is a famous name in golf history. David and William Auchterlonie are club makers at St. Andrew's, Scotland. Willie won the British open title in 1893. Besides Lawrence who strayed to America there is also Tom. Some family. Ond don't overlook Mr. A. J. T. Allan, winner of the British amateur crown in 1897.

How about the ladies—the little "Innocents A-broad" on the golf courses? Miss Bessie Anthony was U. S. women's champion in 1903 the same year that Miss Rhona Adair won the British title for the second time Miss Molly Adams was runner up in the U. S. tournament three years later.

Also, "Address the ball"—"Approach"—"Away"—and "Attaboy."

Feg Murray Says—

"No Tickee, No Mashie."

Charles Chung, a Chicago golfer, has taken a job as pro with a California Club.

Recruit Pitcher Resting Easy

GREENVILLE, S. C., March 31.—Clarence Allen, recruit pitcher of the Jersey City club of the International league, wounded in an encounter with J. R. and Boyd Peden at an exhibition game here Monday, is resting comfortably today at a local hospital.

Allen sustained a puncture of his left lung and other deep cuts on the body from a knife said by police to have been in the hand of one of the Pedens, who owned property adjoining the ball park and resented Allen's jumping the park fence to recover a batted ball. The Pedens are in jail charged with assault and battery with intent to kill.

Training Camps

(International News Service)

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., March 31.—The Yankees take on the Cincinnati Reds here today. The Yanks left Pennock, Bengough, Lazzeri and Chesterfield at the St. Petersburg camp to round into condition.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn.—While Manager McGraw pursues the elusive Eddie Roush through the wilds of Tennessee with contract and fountain pen, the New York Giants will play Chattanooga here today.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla.—The Brooklyn Robins cross bats with Jacksonville here today. Thirty Brooklyn players are making the trip north.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex.—With Judge K. M. Landis as a spectator, the Detroit Tigers defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates, 3 to 1, in an exhibition game. Paul Waner got a three-bagger for the Pirates, but they collected only three other hits.

PHILADELPHIA—The Phillies arrived home this morning. The team will work out at Baker field this afternoon and tomorrow in preparation for the opening game of the city series with the Athletics Saturday.

SAVANNAH, Ga.—The Athletics and the Boston Braves wind up their five-game series here this afternoon. Ty Cobb will not appear in the line-up. He motored to his home at Augusta, but plans to rejoin the team at Richmond Friday.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex.—The Tigers were jubilant today as a result of their 3 to 1 victory over the Pirates yesterday. Whitehill and Gibson pitched mid-season ball, restricting the Pirates to four hits. Meadows and Morrison also pitched well for Pittsburgh. The teams play again today.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

By ED. FRITZ

Miss Glenna Collett for the fourth time captured the north and south women's golf tourney at Pinehurst, having defeated Miss Virginia Van Wie 4 and 2. After a poor beginning Glenna made a striking comeback. Miss Van Wie was 2 up at the turn but Miss Collett made long drives, accurate approaches and completely routed her opponent and the match ended on the 16th hole.

Promoter James Mullen, Chicago, today tentatively closed two championship boxing matches for the outdoor season. He has the promise of Mushy Callahan, junior welterweight champion, to defend his honors against Spug Myers, the Idaho walloper. He also has agreements with Bud Taylor and Tony Canzoneri to meet again in a bantamweight championship. They fought a draw recently.

With approximately 1,000 thoroughbreds of various ages ready to respond to the bugle and a large field assured in the inaugural handicap, a $5,000 contest for three-year-olds and up, out of the seven furlong chute, the major racing season in the east will be ushered in Friday at Bowie. Gaffsman and Edisto, Canadian horses, have been entered in the inaugural event.

Musketeers Top Rainbows 42-26

The Y. M. C. A. Musketeers defeated the Ellwood City Rainbows, 42 to 26, in a game played at the local institution on Tuesday night. The game was the first of an elimination series to settle the championship among the junior teams of the county.

The Musketeers were masters of the game throughout. The score at the end of the first half stood 19 to 8. Hannon, with eight field goals, and Kroen with four, were the leading scorers of the occasion.

Musketeers 42		Rainbows 26
Hannon	F	Friedhoff
Woods	F	Lawrence
Kroen	C	Dunn
Hill	G	MacMurdo
Clark	G	Fonno

Subs.: Louden, Johns, Stonek.

Field goals: Hannon 8, Woods, Kroen 4, Clark 2, Johns 2, Friedhoff 3, Lawrence 2, Dunn 4, MacMurdo 2, Fonno.

Fouls: Musketeers, 7 out of 19; Rainbows, 2 out of 10.

Referee: Smith.

The boys' and girls' varsity teams of the Ben Franklin Junior High school will hold a banquet and short program tonight in the Franklin school. The affair is scheduled to get under way at six o'clock.

Coach Norton will have charge of the banquet. The floor teams have had a wonderful success this year and they are deserving of the feed that awaits them tonight.

Walsh Selects Detroit To Win American League Flag, Athletics Second

Figures Washington Third And Yankees Fourth On Spring Showing

Cleveland, Chicago, St. Louis And Boston In Second Division

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor International News Service

NEW YORK, March 31.—Largely because the Detroit ball club in all probability will be fighting for its manager this season and not with him, the writer ventures today to name the Tigers as potentially the strongest team in the American league up to and including this, the present moment. It has been an annual absurdity to declare in March what will happen in October but there is no law against a man playing smart, even if he knows better; so that particular brand of hocus pocus may well be retired from circulation.

Therefore, the clubs are listed below merely in the order of their potential strength, with an easy mind, or the equivalent:

1. Detroit Tigers.
2. Philadelphia Athletics.
3. Washington Senators.
4. New York Yankees.
5. Cleveland Indians.
6. Chicago White Sox.
7. St. Louis Browns.
8. Boston Red Sox.

The Tigers have made only two changes between seasons but speaking with malice toward none, both have been for the better. The addition of Marty McManus has staked the infield to the punch and steadiness it needed. The managerial trade of Moriarty for Cobb has given the club the peace and good will it never before has had.

Cobb Couldn't Win.

With any kind of a break, this outfit might have won at least one pennant during the last five years, but either it couldn't or wouldn't win for Cobb. This version of its failure has been common gossip for years; so much so, in fact, that the Tigers were the hot tip of nearly every baseball man in the south this spring. The prophets can't go very far wrong, at that, in touting a club that has had good but manhandled pitching, fine catching, an adequate infield and three outfielders who hit over .365, not to mention a fourth who led the league during the greater part of the 1925 season.

Anything, of course, can happen in six months and many things will. The White Sox, for example, would be a far better bet at this writing if the unfortunate Mostil had delayed his attempted suicide by even six weeks.

The Philadelphia Athletics have more ball players than they know what to do with and, therefore, are ranked below the pace. One man's guess on this ball club is as good as another's. But, offhand, I would hesitate to go too far with a team which doesn't know whether Collins or Bishop will play second base; Boley or Galloway will be its shortstop; Hale or Dykes its third baseman, and Branom or Poole its first baseman, to say nothing of its superfluity of outfielders.

Too Many Managers.

The club has too many candidates, too much managerial timber, too much uncertainty. At present, it is the graetest gate attraction in baseball; yet no one can say how good the team is until Connie Mack himself decides what men are on it.

The Senators, with that wonderful outfield of Goslin, Speaker and Rice; a smart, variegated offense and fair pitching, might go anywhere, but right now they seem to be no better than a third choice. They have a most promising squad of young pitchers but until a promise becomes fulfillment, I must take it for granted that Harris' pitching will be a bit uncertain, particularly with Johnson unavailable at this time. His catching also is open to dubious scrutiny and the question of whether Meyer will prove an acceptable third baesman still is much in the air.

The writer feels that the Yankees weren't the best ball club in the league last year, and they aren't now. They won in spite of ordinary pitching, a five-thumbed shortstop and a third baseman who no longer can move about with the abandon of a youth. The pitching has not been improved between seasons; in fact, each man on the regular staff is just a year older, which usually means a year worse. The Yanks blasted their way to a pennant but they don't figure to do it again. However, that impressive punch can't be laughed off in a high falsetto; it will keep them up with the pace.

It is no easy matter to rate the Indians in the second division for here is a club that is capable of anything. However, they lost the man who played batters to perfection in centerfield, Tris Speaker, their inspiration and leader, and so far his successor has not been conspicuous to the inquiring eye. Speaker's passing seems certain to make a difference to the Indians; also there is a question of whether some of those young pitchers were on the level with their rather startling first-year performances.

The Browns and White Sox figure to be about of equal strength at this time, the loss of Mostil and Collins depreciating the Sox outlook to no slight extent. They were up in the race in each of the last two years until Collins dropped out of the lineup, therefore, it may be taken for granted that he meant something to the success of the team. Ward may come back for a good year but the infield remains a precarious proposition and, with Mostil out, the outfield is not of the best, either. Mostil, in fact, was the punch of the entire. It is no better than a sixth place bet at this time.

The Browns also have a bad infield and uncertain pitching with the punch of the team open to question; on what they have now, if the Browns climb as high as the top of the second division, everyone will be surprised, including the Browns. The Red Sox may have more fight with Carrigan behind them but otherwise they seem to have improved not at all since 1926, when they were a hapless and hopeless tailender. The liabilities—infield, pitching, no punch—are many. Their assets all too few. Just a ball club with a good manager.

The records show a total of 1,272 stolen bases in the two major leagues last season, almost equally divided between the National and American circuits.

The "Centurians" is the name of an English amateur athletic society composed of men and women who have walked 100 miles in less than 24 hours.

New Way Is Shown To Kill Japanese Beetles In Lawns

State Department Of Agriculture Tells Local Residents How To Kill Off Pest

Many residents of New Castle and vicinity are taking advantage of the spring weather in fixing up their lawns. Some are re-seeding while others are making new lawns or remaking old lawns. To these it will be interesting to know that a new method has been found for killing the Japanese beetle which has destroyed so many lawns in certain districts.

This second and new method of destroying the Japanese beetle has been found after five years experimental work by the Japanese beetle labratory at Riverton, N. J. ,and is now being used on lawns and golf curses.

The Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture is getting out a bulletin which will explain the method in detail.

The Japanese beetle grubs have done serious damage to many fine lawns and golf grounds in the heavily infested areas surrounding Philadelphia. This prompted immediate research work resigned to kill grubs before their destructive work was accomplished. The first method developed consisted of the application of a poisonous spray solution to the ground. This method requires special machinery and is less practical on small lawns than the new method which consists of mixing arsenate of lead with the soil before seeding the grass.

It has been found that mixing this poisonous chemical with the upper soil layer kills the grubs but does not injure the majority of grasses commonly used in golf greens and lawns. In fact experimental work covering three years shows that the grasses used on lawns are actually stimulated by the presence of the arsenate of lead in the soil.

The proper rate of applying the arsenate of lead is three and one-half pounds per 100 square feet of ground. In order to secure an even distribution it is advised that the poison be mixed first with dry soil or sand. It is important that it be evenly distributed otherwise a spotty, uneven control of the grubs will result.

One of the valuable features of this method of grub control is the fact that it does not have to be repeated each year. Experiments show that lawns properly poisoned remain grub-proof for a period of five years at least.

The earliest steeplechase mentioned in history took place in Ireland 175 years ago.

Peaches Browning Barred From Stage

Local Theatre Men Attend Meeting In Pittsburgh; Announce Result

There is no chance for "Peaches" Browning in the movies or on the stage, according to the theatre owners association of western Pennsylvania and northern West Virginia. At a luncheon meeting held on Wednesday, March 30, at the William Penn hotel, Pittsburgh, attended by several hundred, unanimous action was taken refusing to show any films in which persons, who have attained notoriety through divorces, were featured. The same resolution also pledged the theatre owners, to play no one who has attained fame in such a way on the stage. The resolution was sponsored because of the reported intention of "Peaches" Browning to go on the vaudeville stage.

At the meeting attended yesterday almost 900 theatres were represented. Speer Marousis and Chas. Kranz of this city, attended.

Half Million In Building Permits

March Shows Spurt In Building Here; Twenty One New Residences

Building operations during the month of March took a big jump and one of the most prosperous building seasons of New Castle's history is in sight. The estimated cost of construction for which permits have been issued by city authorities, total $406,020.

Permits for 21 new residences to cost $111,500 were granted and the addition to the Senior high school, to be built this summer will cost $250,000.

The balance of the $406,020 is to be spent for an electric sub-station, two gasoline stations, public garage, 37 private garages, two small buildings, four fences, one billboard, remodelling of 22 dwellings and seven buildings.

The racing season in the East will get under way Friday, April 1, at the Bowie track near Baltimore. The following day will see the close of the winter racing season at New Orleans.

HALL of FAME

Nominating Eddie Farrell.

Because he was a student at the University of Pennsylvania one June day in 1925.

Because he was playing third base for the Giants the next day.

Because he was forced to retire before the end of the game with a spike wound in his arm, but was back in the lineup the next day.

Because he proved himself such a promising player in a few days that McGraw has held onto him ever since.

Because he is a brilliant infielder in his own right today but must warm the bench because of the presence of Freddy Lindstrom and Travis Jackson two other brilliant youngsters on the team.

And because he is wise enough to know that a youngster can learn considerable baseball from the bench while waiting his chance on the field.

"DEAD MAN" RETURNS AS HIS LIFE INSURANCE IS ABOUT TO BE PAID

SPRINGFIELD, O., March 31.—Ralph Pope, 32, believed dead since November 12, when his mother, Mrs. Aggie Riggs had identified as his a body in the Scioto river near Columbus, walked into the office of an attorney here while papers were being prepared for collection of his life insurance.

He declared he had been traveling about in Texas.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

By NORMAN E. BROWN

A perusal of the second base situation brings to mind the fact that the major leagues, in addition to suffering the usual dearth of second sackers, are faced with an outfield problem that is more serious than usual. The untimely death of Ross Young of the Giants, the unfortunate despondent act of Johnny Mostil of the White Sox, the departure of Tris Speaker from the Indians, the departure of Zach Wheat from the Dodgers because of his high salary, the trading of George Harper by the Phils, and other moves are responsible for the increased worries of the various managers regarding their outer gardens.

Bib Falk in left had won his spurs last season. He had played the entire string out, had hit .345 and led the league in fielding.

Mostil, in center, had hit .328 while playing practically the entire campaign. He had led the league in base stealing and his outfield work had been as brilliant as ever.

Bill Barrett played 111 games in the outfield, as the third man, had hit .307 and had covered right field in capable fashion.

Added to these, Schalk had Ike Boone.

Ike was drafted from the Mission club of the Pacific Coast league, with the thought of using him as utility outfielder and pinch hitter. Out where base hits are tossed about with the same abandon movie reputations are made and lost, Boone had ruined day after day for the pitchers.

To be more specific he had hit .380. He had socked a total of 238 hits. Thirty-two of them were homers. Fifty-five were doubles.

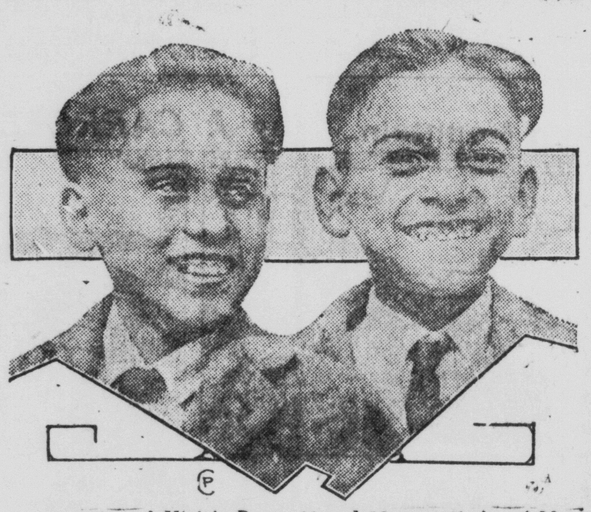

He scored 140 runs himself and batted in 131.

Now Boone will be asked to play the third position regularly. Barrett probably will succeed Mostil in center and Boone will play right.

Boone was tried out by the Giants and the Red Sox and found wanting. Oh, yes, he could hit. But during his final fling with the Red Sox he became known as a "record book" hitter. He held to an average of .300 or better in the books, but his hits weren't always timely.

BASEBALL IS THEIR AMBITION

Antonio and Higinio Perez, 11 and 13 respectively, of Manzanillo in Mexico, have come all the way to the United States to learn to play baseball. Prior to their arrival they had only seen ball games in the movies. The youngsters are shown above wearing broad grins on arrival at San Francisco, Calif. They are to be educated in schools in the United States.

WHEN SPRING COMES

And the robins sing merrily as they search out the early worms, the call of house cleaning is in the blood of every good housewife. Spring is the time that every speck of dirt in the house must go and every piece of furniture moved. Spring house cleaning is made easier by reading the News classified ads for there you will find those who can help you clean the wall paper, paper the rooms, paint the house, clean up the yard, beat the rugs or any other service you may want.

And you can sell that furniture you don't need by means of a little classified ad.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

The Battle of South Mountain. by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

WHILE AT FREDERICK, MARYLAND, ON SEPT. 13 (1862), GEN. McCLELLAN LEARNED FROM A CAPTURED DISPATCH THAT THE CONFEDERATE ARMY WAS DIVIDED. HE AT ONCE PLANNED TO PLACE HIS FORCES BETWEEN THE TWO CONFEDERATE BODIES AND PREVENT THEM RE-UNITING.

THE ROUTE McCLELLAN PLANNED TO TAKE LED THROUGH TWO GAPS OVER SOUTH MOUNTAIN, 12 MILES WEST OF FREDERICK. IF HE HAD MARCHED AT ONCE HE COULD HAVE CAPTURED THESE GAPS, BUT HE DID NOT SET OUT UNTIL DAWN OF THE 14TH AND ON REACHING THE PASSES FOUND THEY WERE HELD BY THE ENEMY.

AS A RESULT OF THIS DELAY, THE FEDERALS HAD TO FIGHT EVERY INCH OF THEIR WAY THROUGH THE GAPS AND LOST MANY MEN, INCLUDING GEN. RENO. THE CONFEDERATES RESISTED STUBBORNLY, BUT WERE AT LAST FORCED TO RETREAT.

LEE HAD BY THIS TIME LEARNED THE FATE OF THE LOST DISPATCH, AND, HEARING THAT McCLELLAN WAS ON HIS WAY THROUGH THE GAPS, FELL BACK TO SHARPSBURG, WHERE HE THREW UP A LINE OF INTRENCHMENTS ON RISING GROUND BETWEEN ANTIETAM CREEK AND THE TOWN.

AN ORDINANCE

Providing for the licensing of all persons collecting, hauling or carrying ashes, cans, rubbish and other waste materials within the City of New Castle, and prohibiting any such collection, hauling or carrying without a license and providing a penalty for the violation thereof.

SECTION 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the Council of the City of New Castle, Pa., that it shall hereafter be unlawful for any person or persons within the said City to go from house to house, or from place to place, collecting any garbage, ashes, cans, waste or other refuse matter, or to haul or carry any of the same for hire or otherwise along any street of the said City without first having obtained from the Health Department of the said City a license to make such collection or to do such hauling or carrying.

SECTION 2. Any person desiring to haul or carry any of the said waste materials, hereinabove specified, within the City of New Castle, or to dispose of the same, may secure a permit for that purpose from the Health Department by paying a fee of 25c for such permit, but he shall first make written application therefor and in such application he shall state the following data:—

1st. His name, address and occupation.

2nd. The means by which he purposes to transport the said rubbish.

3rd. The charge, if any, which he intends to make for the doing of the said service.

4th. The probable amount of rubbish to be transported by him.

5th. What disposition he is going to make of the said rubbish, and where the same is to be disposed of.

The Health Department of the said City may refuse to grant the permit upon any such application, if it does not approve of the answers to any of the said questions, and when any permit is granted, the person receiving the same must comply in every respect with the terms and conditions upon which it was granted, as set out in his said answers.

SECTION 3. If any person shall transport any rubbish or waste matter, as hereinbefore enumerated, within the said City without a permit or, having a permit, shall transport such rubbish or waste matter in a manner other than that set out in the answers made to the questions in the application for such permit, or contrary to any rule of the said Health Department or any ordinance of the said City, or shall dump such rubbish or waste matter in a place or in a manner or shall collect and transport the same contrary to the orders of the said Health Department, such persons shall be guilty of a violation of this ordinance and upon conviction before the Mayor or any Alderman of the said City shall be subject to the payment of a fine not exceeding one hundred ($100.00) dollars for each offense, and the costs of prosecution, and, in default of the payment of the said fine and costs to imprisonment in the County Jail for a period not to exceed ninety (90) days.

SECTION 4. It shall be the duty of every officer of the said City to stop all persons who may be seen carrying or transporting any rubbish or waste materials in the said City, and to require of such person that he exhibit his license and any householder or resident may require of such person that he exhibit his license and any such person, when inquired of to exhibit his license, as aforesaid, who shall not be able to exhibit the same, shall be guilty of a violation of the provisions of this ordinance and be subject to the penalties set out in section three (3) thereof.

SECTION 5. All licenses issued shall be good for the whole of the current year for which issued.

AN ORDINANCE

Regulating the construction, installation, maintenance and operation of pumps, drawing-off and measuring devices, tanks and containers for the storage, handling, sale and dispensing of gasoline and any other volatile or inflammable liquid in the City of New Castle, and providing penalties for the violation thereof.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted and ordained by the Council of the City of New Castle, Pennsylvania, and it is hereby enacted and ordained by the authority of the same, that from and after the passage of this ordinance, no person, firm, association or corporation shall be permitted to erect, install or operate any pump, drawing-off or measuring device, or any tank or container used for the storage, handling, sale or dispensing of gasoline, or any other inflammable liquid, unless the following regulations are complied with:

A. Application shall be made in writing to the Superintendent of Public Safety of the City of New Castle, upon a form to be prescribed and furnished by the said Department of Public Safety of the City of New Castle, setting forth the size, location and descriptive character of the pump, drawing-off or measuring device, tank or container to be installed, erected or operated, and the manner of installation. Said application shall be subject to approval or disapproval by the Council of the City of New Castle, as to location and number to be installed, and must be accompanied by a certificate of approval from the Bureau of Fire Protection, Pennsylvania State Police, as to compliance with safety regulations of said department, as required.

B. All gasoline tanks shall be built, constructed, located and equipped as follows:

(a) No single tank to be over one thousand (1000) gallons capacity.

(b) All gasoline tanks must be placed at least two (2) feet apart.

(c) All gasoline tanks must be buried at least three feet below the surface of the ground and placed on six (6) inch concrete base, which base shall be as long as the tank.

(d) If gasoline tank is placed within fifteen (15) feet of cellar, basement, pit, or vault of any kind, an eight (8) inch concrete wall must be built around and extended six (6) inches above the tank.

(e) Steel gasoline tanks must be riveted, welded or brazed.

(f) Filling pipe must be outside of building and at least five (5) feet from any doorway or opening into building.

(g) Vent pipe must be at least one (1) inch in diameter and must not terminate within three (3) feet of any door, window, or opening to building, and be at least nine (9) feet above surface and supported by suitable post or building.

(h) No gasoline pump shall be placed within fifteen (15) feet of fire hydrant.

(i) A self-closing valve must be placed at discharge point of tank.

(j) All electric wiring must pass through approved conduits.

(k) No curb pumps or discharge pipes shall be placed on or over any sidewalk.

(l) No gasoline pumps or drawing-off devices shall be placed in any frame buildings.

(m) Means of fire extinguishment must be available on premises where inflammable substances are handled.

C. Provided that nothing in this section shall be construed to include gasoline or kerosene not exceeding five (5) gallons when stored or handled in an approved safety container. Nor shall it be construed to exclude a manufacturer from bringing into his factory in air-tight receptacles sufficient material for his daily operative needs when such practice shall not present an unwarranted hazard.

Provided further, that this section shall not apply to inside kerosene tanks or equipment not exceeding one hundred and twenty (120) gallons capacity, where such tank is permissible inside building.

SECTION 2. That all pumps, drawing-off or measuring devices, tanks and containers installed or to be installed, shall be subject to inspection by the Superintendent of Public Safety or the Chief of the Fire Department, or their duly authorized agent or agents, and if found to present a hazard, the Superintendent of Public Safety or the Chief of the Fire Department shall have the power to have the same corrected to conform with good practice. If the condition complained of is not remedied within a reasonable time after notice, the same is hereby declared a public nuisance and may be abated by the Superintendent of Public Safety or the Chief of the Fire Department, in the manner provided by law for the abatement of nuisances.

SECTION 3. After the passage of this ordinance no one shall be permitted to erect any gasoline filling device in any public street in the said City.

SECTION 4. That any person, firm, association or corporation violating any of the provisions of this Ordinance shall, upon conviction before the Mayor, or any alderman of the City of New Castle, be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than Five ($5.00) Dollars or more than One Hundred ($100.00) Dollars and costs of prosecution, and in default of payment thereof, shall be imprisoned in the City or County Jail for a period not exceeding ninety (90) days. One prosecution for any violation of this Ordinance shall not be a bar to subsequent prosecutions for the same violation.

SECTION 5. All ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict herewith be and the same are hereby repealed.

State of Pennsylvania, County of Lawrence, City of New Castle, ss.

I, Cordelia Zeigler Jones, City Clerk hereby certify that the above and foregoing ordinance was passed by the Council of the City of New Castle, Pa., March 29, 1927, signed by the Mayor and attested by the City Clerk.

In witness whereof I herewith set my hand and affix the seal of said City, this 31st day of March, A. D. 1927.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Mar. 31.—A brilliant advance in the speculative railroad stocks combined with the sharp declines in the independent oils to produce an unsettled condition in the market in early trading today. Further recoveries in the motor stocks were matched by fresh moves in the industrials and specialties.

The fury of speculative selling broke in full force over the independent oil stocks as calculations showed that the big earners of last year would make no such showing this year. Marland Oil, Phillips, Skelly and the Standard Oils dropped in confusion to the lowest levels of the year as huge blocks of the stock were thrown on the market in the first hour.

Kansas City Southern led the advance in the speculative rails, with a brisk advance to the year's high price of 56. Western Maryland common and preferred, Missouri Pacific, Texas and Pacific, New Haven, Erie and Wabash moved up sharply on rumors of "new alignments" of the transportation companies, the latest reports linking Wabash with the Pennsylvania system.

Dodge Motor shares improved slightly as the result of President Wilmer's favorable statement of earnings and contemplated production of the new six-cylinder car, but heavy offerings prevented much of a rally in this and other motor stocks. American Can sold at the year's lowest price, while Continental Baking A broke to 40½, completing a loss of about 20 points on the movement. Steel stocks were quiet and coppers, equipments and sugars firm.

Rescued Miner Tells Of Blast In Mine

(International News Service)

EHRENFELD, Pa., March 31.—James Williams, a miner on the night shift, and one of the first persons at the scene of yesterday's explosion related for International News Service today how the terrific blast rocked the countryside.

Williams' mother lives at DuBois, and he hastened to the telephone as soon as rescue work was well under way to tell her that he was safe. He has worked at various operations in Clearfield county.

"I was preparing to go to work," Williams said, "When the first detonation was heard about 12:20 p. m. This was followed in an instant by a second loud report.

"At first I thought it was a signal for coal trains operating near the mine, but the third and most severe explosion was of such a nature that I knew something had happened at the mine. It sounded like the powder magazine had exploded.

"Hurrying to the mine, I found S. W. Blakeslee, superintendent, coming from the mine office, which adjoins the mouth of the mine. Although he had not been down in the 'plane' Blakeslee's face was covered with coal dust.

"By this time huge clouds of black smoke were pouring from the mine and we knew there had been an explosion in the workings, but dreaded to speculate as to the number of men trapped because practically the entire day force was at work.

"When rescue crews were able to enter the mine they found the four bodies in the debris of the thirty-three wrecked coal cars which ran wild down the 2,000-foot plane when a rope broke. Other miners were working several miles beyond the scene of the explosion. They were not affected by the blast. Many did not even know there had been an explosion until they were safely outside.

Williams with his wife and two small daughters came here in November, 1926, and has been employed in the local mine since then.

PULASKI NEWS

One of the most pleasant social events held here for some time was that of Tuesday evening when the Women's Benefit association entertained a number of their friends at a Kid party representing school days. The members came dressed like school children carrying their dinner baskets. Mrs. Fred Wallace represented the teacher and was dressed in the quaint old time costume of a maiden lady of 50 years ago.

Dinner was served to the invited guests out of their baskets, the custom of many years ago. All the costumes worn by the members deserve special mention but Mrs. Ada Urey won first prize and Mrs. Fred Wallace second. Near 40 were present among which were Mrs. J. C. B. Douthett of New Castle, Miss Margaret Boyd of Princeton and Mrs. Mary E. Reno of Chautauqua, N. Y.

Miss Katheryn Mitcheltree has left for New York where she will be the guest of her aunts the Misses Elizabeth and Margaret Virtue of that place.

Miss Margaret Boyd of Princeton, was an over night guest of her brother and wife Mr. and Mrs. Muryl Boyd Tuesday night.

W. F. Kane was a recent guest in Warren, O., to see his neice Miss Eleanor Kane who was removed from the St. Joseph's hospital in Pittsburgh to Warren where she is very seriously ill. Miss Kane was taken sick while attending school in Pittsburgh and had to be taken to a hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. James Black were recent guests of Rev. and Mrs. R. A. Thompson of Mercer. Rev. Thompson was formerly pastor of the Methodist church here some years ago.

Mrs. Charles Clark is confined to her home with illness.

Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Douthett of New Castle were callers in town Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Knox have returned from Mt. Jackson where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Schultz.

WRITE ESSAYS ON BRICK MAKING

High School Students Are Given Awards; Make Visit To Plant

Several weeks ago a group of Senior High students, 37 in all, had the opportunity to visit the plant of the New Castle Mining and Clay Products Company on the Harlansburg road. After the students had been conducted through the brick plant, C. H. Andrews, manager of the company, offered the students a prize of $5 for the best essay on "Brickmaking."

A good many students wrote essays on this subject and the winner has just been announced. Elizabeth Kray was awarded the $5. Mr. Andrews in his recent letter to Clarence E. Baer of the science department, enclosed two additional awards of $2.50 each. These were presented to Pearl Gibbons and Virginia Knox for their contributions.

The trip was very instructive, the students returning with a complete knowledge of brickmaking.

Bones Of Indian Giant Unearthed

Three Warriors' Skeletons Discovered In Fairfield County Cavern

LANCASTER, O., March 31.—The finding of the skeleton of an Indian giant eight feet tall in a cavern of the Kettle hills the range in which the mumified body of an Indian princess was found recently, has started a rush of treasure seekers of this series of caves.

The giant's bones were unearthed five feet below the floor of the cave which is 40 feet deep and 15 feet wide.

On each side of the giant was found a six foot skeleton. All were in a sitting position with legs crossed and arms folded.

They were evidently warriors who had died in battle as there were holes in the skulls of two of them. War clubs, tomahawks and spear points all of stone and a box made of stone ten inches square that contained more than 200 arrow heads were taken from the sepulcher Scientists assert that these implements indicate the skeletons are those of warriors.

Spear points were found between the ribs of one of the men. The head of another had been severed from the body and both arms were broken.

Each skeleton was found sitting with its back against a huge stone tablet.

HAD RHEUMATISM FOR MANY YEARS

Got relief at last with simple home treatment

A martyr to rheumatism for almost a lifetime, a man from Wyocena, Wis., writes that he can always get relief with a simple home treatment.

"As a man of seventy, for years a sufferer from rheumatism, I want to give my recommendation for Sloan's Liniment," he says. "It is a fine remedy and will do all that is claimed for it."

Sloan's has been the standby of rheumatic sufferers for years because it doesn't just deaden the nerves. It helps the body to throw off the germs and poisons that cause the trouble by speeding up the circulation right in the affected spots.

Apply a little lightly, without rubbing. Immediately you feel a warm glow of comfort. Stiff joints and muscles limber up. The aching stops and soon you are completely free from pain. Get a bottle today. All druggists—35 cents.
